Judge Wheeler's Committee Is Ready to Report.

The Pension Office Honeycombed with Fraud.

The Commissioner's Removal Is Asked For

On the Grounds That He Is Worse Than Incompetent.

A Great Public Office Used for Partisan Ends—Can President Harrison Continue to Ignore Those Charges.

New York, July 5.—A Washington special to the World says: Judge Wheeler's report of the Raum investigation, which is now practically completed, and which will be submitted to the committee and given to the press in the course of a few days, is one of the most comprehensive and exhaustive documents ever emanating from a congressional committee.

In it the committee finds the pension office to be honey-combed by fraud, rascality, incompetent methods, prejudice and malice.

The report recommends the removal of Commissioner Raum on the ground that he is incompetent, narrow-minded, malicious in the pursuit of supposed enemies, and has subordinated this great public office to partisan ends, besides taking advantage of his official position to further his own financial projects.

SNUBBED MR. EGAN.

Americans in Chile Leave Him Out in the Cold.

A Grand Ball Given at Santiago in Honor of the Day We Celebrate.

New York, July 5.—A special cable to the Herald from Valparaiso says that the Fourth was celebrated by the American colony at Santiago. A ball was given, at which there was a large attendance. Several prominent Chileans were present. Neither Minister Egan nor Consul McCreery were invited.

At Buenos Ayres the day was also commemorated by a great gathering on board the United States steamer Bennington. The Argentine officials and United States Minister Pitkin were present.

DIED AT SEA.

New York, July 5.—Mrs. Redmond Gilles, aged 23 years, of New York, a saloon passenger of the steamship Ethiopia from Glasgow, died on June 28 of consumption. The body was brought to this port.

The Ethiopia passed a large iceberg on June 30 in latitude 48.08, longitude 48.30.

DOCTOR'S FEES AND FREE ADVERTISING.

According to newspaper reports, a celebrated American surgeon received $5,000 for removing a little wen from a wealthy lady's scalp. The papers fail to state the exact amount of free advertising the doctor managed to obtain.—National Advertiser.

Let's reason together.

Here's a firm, one of the largest the country over, the world over; it has grown, step by step, through many years to greatness.

This firm pays the newspapers good money (expensive work, this advertising!) to tell the people that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can't benefit or cure they don't want your money.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is sold on this liberal plan. If it doesn't benefit or cure, it costs nothing. It cures Skin, Scalp and Scrofulous affections, as Eczema, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Fever-sores, White Swellings, Hip-joint disease and kindred ailments.

It's the cheapest blood-purifier sold, through druggists, no matter how many hundred doses are offered for its price ($1.00 a bottle), since you pay only for the good you get.

WABASH WRECK.

A Midnight Crash Near Kellar's Station.

Logansport, July 5.—A wreck occurred on the Wabash, one mile east of Kellar's station at 12 o'clock Saturday night which resulted in the complete destruction of the locomotive and the death of five men who were riding on the engine.

It was a mixed or accommodation train and the wreck was caused by the washing out of a four-foot stone culvert.

The killed are:
C. F. Wilcox, trainmaster.
Harry Dunlap, superintendent of bridges.
Charles Helm, foreman bridge carpenters.
Shoey, engineer.
Marks, fireman.

The bodies have all been secured. The fireman and engineer resided at Andrews, the others at Peru.

They were testing one of the heavy new passenger locomotives recently purchased by the company when the culvert gave way.

FOUR WERE KILLED.

Result of the Fourth in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—The Fourth of July cost four lives here yesterday, with several injuries, whose results cannot be foretold.

The dead are: Hoover, Henry; killed by a thrown bottle.
Leslie, Ettie (colored); killed by a stray bullet.
Peterson, Axtell; killed in a mock duel.
Westerman, Clara, 5 years old; burned to death.

The injured are: Westerman, two brothers of Clara; severely burned with powder.

WILL RUN THEIR WORKS

General Order Number One from Fort Frick.

Carnegie to Entirely Ignore the Amalgamated.

The Establishment to be Placed Under the Charge of the Allegheny County Sheriff.

Pittsburg, July 5.—The usually hustling town of Homestead was as quiet as a village yesterday. The majority of the 4,000 Carnegie employes, who a year ago were as joyous as the members of any community in the country, had no heart for an enthusiastic celebration of the Fourth of July. The shadows cast by the tall stacks of "Fort Frick," as the Carnegie mill has come to be known, seemed to crush every fireside. There was no disorder in the town and none is anticipated now until the Carnegies attempt to raise the siege. Then, unless there is a wonderful change in the temper of the locked-out men, there will be bloodshed.

A meeting of a number of the Carnegie Steel company officials was held at its office on Fifth avenue, and the situation was discussed, as were plans for the conducting of the fight. H. C. Frick, chairman of the company, was present and led in the discussion. The company gave out the following statement after the meeting:

"While, of course, we are not making public the details of our plans, I can say that in general they remain as before stated. We will not send the individual contracts to the strikers as was done five years ago, at the Edgar Thomson works. When we get ready, in a week or so, public notice will be given. The strikers are by no means presenting as solid a front as they think they are.

"We are in receipt of dozens of communications, written and verbal, from men who are being compelled to side with the strikers. They tell us that in case of a struggle they want their old positions and that they are unable to take them because of the crusade by the strikers. These men will surely go back to work as will many others who are afraid to speak now as they fear violence.

"We can't give any details of the statements received, as to do so would call down the revenge of the strikers on the hundreds of thousands forced to help them. We do not expect that any attempt will be made to injure the works. When we shall place the plant in the keeping of Allegheny, it will be seen to that violence is averted.

"The sheriff will be asked to enlist a sufficient number of deputies, not 100 or so as was done three years ago, but a number sufficient to go to the Homestead and stay there and preserve our rights and property. Our contracts to furnish the governent with armor plate contain clauses covering strikes and other labor disturbances.

"Should the Homestead mills be closed a year it would not hurt us, as far as those contracts are concerned. Armor plates must be made to fit as exactly as the parts of a sewing machine or a typewriter. They are subjected to the severest tests by the government.

"The finishing machinery is operated by specialists. The mechanics are high-priced men. We take the risk of having our work rejected. Under these conditions the manufacturer of armor plate does not seem so lucrative as has been claimed. I have occasionally been in the office of Superintendent Potter, of the Homestead works, when the mill committee came with some demand. I was surprised how good-humoredly Mr. Potter took impudence from them which I would certainly never have tolerated. While the Amalgamated association was recognized at Homestead they seemed to run our mill. We are going to do that ourselves hereafter. This fight is not a matter of politics with us. It is purely a business matter and no political considerations will influence us."

DEATH OF A MILLIONAIRE.

Columbus, O., July 5.—News was received here yesterday of the death of Lewis Hoster, head of the Hoster Brewing company, which occurred at Deer Park. General debility was the cause of his death. He leaves an estate of one million, and was well known among the Germans of Ohio. Mr. Hoster was born in 1807 in the southern part of Germany, and came to this country in 1833. He located in Columbus in 1834, established the Hoster brewery in 1836, and remained at the head up to the time of his death.

THE FOURTH AT WHITEHOUSE.

White House, O., July 5.—(Special)—The Fourth of July celebration was largely attended. The farmers all came, as the ground was too wet to work corn or cut wheat. The band and speakers were home talent and discoursed in excellent style. The parade was an immense affair. Our small town was crowded with happy people. Stores and saloons had an immense trade.

HAD A CLOSE CALL.

Waltham, Mass., July 5.—A balloon in which Prof. Shattuck attempted to make an ascension here yesterday became entangled in the telegraph wires directly above the Park theater building. Prof. Shattuck was thrown from the basket, but clung to the wires until rescued by persons on the roof of the theater building.

ELECTIONS IN ENGLAND

Result of the Polling on the Fourth of July.

The Contest Being Waged With Interest.

Nineteen Conservatives, Eight Liberals and Six Liberal Unionists Have So Far Been Returned.

London, July 5.—The following candidates for members of the house of commons were returned without opposition: For Oxford university, Sir J. R. Mowbray and J. G. Talbot (both conservatives).

St. Georges, Hanover Square, London, Right Hon. A. Sir George J. Goschen, chancellor of the exchequer.

The West or Gower division of Glamorgan, Mr. David Randall (liberal).

The Strand, Hon. W. F. D. Smith, conservative).

The Southern division of Derbyshire, Mr. H. E. Broad (liberal). Morpeth, Mr. T. Burt (liberal).

Carnarvonshire, Avon division, Mr. W. Rathbone (liberal). Leicestershire, Melton division, the marquis of Granby (conservative).

Rutlandshire, Mr. G. H. Finch (conservative).

Bewdley division of Worcestershire, Mr. A. Baldwin (conservative).

Cambridge university, Prof. Jebb and Rt. Hon. Sir John E. Gorst (both conservative).

Glasgow and Aberdeen universities, Dr. James A. Campbell (conservative).

Belfast, east division, Mr. G. W. Wolff (conservative).

Belfast, north division, Sir Edwin J. Harland, bart, (conservative).

Belfast, south division, Mr. Wm. Johnston (conservative).

Thus far 19 conservatives, six liberal-unionists and eight liberals have been elected.

The pollings proceed quietly but vigorously.

The unionist press continues to accuse the liberal party and their candidates, especially in the metropolis, of keeping the home rule question in the background. It is, however, compelled to admit, though it does so reluctantly, that Mr. Gladstone has not adopted this course, on the contrary, he rather facilitates the task of the unionists by stating all the difficulties which stand in the way of obtaining home rule, without giving his followers the slightest idea how to meet them.

The Chronicle echoes the News' panegyric upon Mr. Gladstone's speech at Glasgow, and accuses landlords and employers of labor all over London of intimidating voters by ordering the removal of all radical houses, and of supplying lists of their employes to election agents for the purpose of marking and thus making known those who support the radical cause.

The Daily Chronicle expresses regret at the adoption of such tactics, which, it says, threw discredit upon the conservative cause, and warns those who adopt them that their actions are illegal and render them liable to the infliction of heavy penalties.

Rev. Newman Hall publishes in the London Times to-day the records contained in his diary of two conversations which he had with Mr. John Bright in May, 1887, in which Mr. Bright denounced Mr. Gladstone's espousal of home rule.

The Right Hon. Lord George Francis Hamilton (conservative), first lord of the admiralty, who is contesting the seat for the Ealing division of Middlesex, which he occupied in the last parliament, against Mr. Stephen Holman (liberal), in a strong fair trade address to the electors said that unless Great Britain was prepared to retaliate upon those nations having recourse to protection for the express purpose of shutting out English goods, she would soon find herself deprived of her foreign markets.

"Who," he asked "was most likely to successfully conduct negotiations against hostile tariff—Mr. Gladstone of Mr. Salisbury?"

He said he himself was a free trader so far as believing that the fewer duties put upon imports the better, but the government took the view that the condition of producers ought to be an element for the statesman's consideration.

The first returns from a contested district comes from Boston and shows a liberal victory. W. J. Ingram, liberal, received 1,355 votes, and Hon. J. D. Willoughby, conservative, 1,293; liberal majority, 62. The number of electors in the district is 3,054. In 1885 the liberal candidate had a majority of 298. In 1886 the seat was won by the conservatives by a majority of 50 votes, H. J. Atkinson, conservative, receiving 1,192, and W. J. Ingram, home rule, 1,142.

The conservatives retain the seat for Bury St. Edmunds, their candidate, Lord F. Hervey, receiving 1,247 votes and Maj. Jameson, liberal, 863; conservative majority, 384. The number of registered electors in the district is 2,525. In 1885 the district was carried by the conservative candidate by 187 votes. In 1886 Lord F. Hervey, conservative, received 1,135, and F. Goodwin, home ruler, 800.

The Hereford division has been redeemed by the liberals by a majority of 127. W. H. Grenfell, liberal, received 1,507 votes, and Sir J. R. Bailey, conservative, 1,380. The number of registered electors is 3,267. In 1885 the liberal candidate had a majority of 64. In 1886 the seat was won by the conservative candidate by 265 votes. The poll in the latter election: Sir J. R. Bailey, conservative, 1,401; Joseph Pulley, home ruler, 1,136.

The Dover division remains a conservative stronghold. George Wyndham, conservative, received 2,231 votes, and Maj. Edwards, labor and socialist, 978; conservative majority, 1,253. The number of registered electors is 5,156. In 1885 the conservative majorty was 648. In 1886, Major Dickson, the conservative candidate, was returned without opposition, as was also Mr. Wyndham in the by-election in July, 1889, on the death of Major Dickson.

In Greenock, on of the Scotch boroughs, John Bruce, liberal, received 3,034 and Sir T. Sutherland, unionist-liberal, 2,990; liberal majority 44. Number of registered electors 6,991. In 1885 the liberals carried the seat by 103 votes. In 1886 the seat was carried by Sir T. Sutherland, the unionist candidate, by 697 votes, the poll being: Sutherland, 2,905; Harold Wright, home ruler, 2,208.

Westchester remains conservative by a safe majority, the poll being: A. Myers, conservative, 1,213; C. Matthews, liberal, 859; conservative majority 354, as against 171 in 1885, 336 in 1886, and 518 in the by-election of 1887.

The Stafford division returns to the liberal fold, electing C. E. Shaw.

The liberals carry Burnley by an increased majority with J. S. Balfour.

In Durham the liberals scored another gain, electing M. Fowler, liberal.

The London division was carried by the liberals electing W. Crossfield.

Other returns are as follows:

Kings Lynn—T. G. Bowles, conservative.

Tynemouth—R. S. Donkin, conservative.

Hastings—Wilson Noble, conservative.

Nottingham (West)—Col. Seely, unionist-liberal.

Nottingham (East)—Arnold Merley, liberal.

London, July 5.—Further election returns show that Gen. R. J. Fielden, conservative, was returned without opposition in the Chorley division of Lancashire. The district is overwhelmingly conservative, and Gen. Fielden had no opposition in 1886.

In Dorsetshire, East division, the Hon. Humphrey N. Sturt, conservative, was re-elected without opposition.

Mr. Sturt was elected November 27, 1891, by a vote of 4,421 to 4,074 for Hon. Pascoe Charles Glyn, liberal. In 1886 the vote in this division was Bond, conservative, 4,317, and Glyn, liberal, 3,662.

The election in Sunderland was warmly contested, various issues, such as the coal strikes, eight hours, etc., entering into the struggle along with home rule. Sunderland has two seats, and Alderman Samuel Storey, liberal, and Alderman Edward T. Gourley, liberal, were both elected, Storey receiving 9,711 and Gourley 9,554 votes, to 8,373 for Hon. F. W. Lambton, unionist liberal, and 7,957 for J. S. G. Pemberton, conservative. The figures in 1886 were Storey 6,970, and Gourley 6,839, to 6,027 for Stobart, conservative.

The liberals captured another seat for home rule at Grimsby, where H. Josse, liberal, was elected by 4,201 votes to 3,565 for the Right Hon. E. Heanege, liberal unionist, who represented Grimsby in the late parliament. Vote in 1886: Heanege 2,982; Sutherst, liberal, 2,649.

Kent, East division, Sir A. Allens Douglas, conservative, was re-elected without opposition.

Armagh, Middle division, Dunbar P. Barton, conservative, re-elected without opposition. This was an Orange and conservative stronghold.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Two Men Lose Their Lives in a Conflagration.

New York, July 5.—At 1 o'clock this morning two men were burned to death in a fire which consumed the stable on Brown Place, between 133d and 134th streets, owned by James Kane.

The men were burned to a crisp and could not be identified but are thought to have been Wm. McGolder, aged 19 years, and Bernard Sinclair, aged 17 years, who slept in the stable to protect the property. Eight horses were also burned.

THE RAILS SPREAD

And the Train Was Dumped Into the Ditch.

One Man Killed and a Large Number of Passengers Badly Bruised.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—A wreck causing the loss of one life, serious injury of three passengers and the wounding of eight others, occurred on the Louisville Southern railroad, 22 miles out of Louisville at 7 o'clock last evening.

Besides the loss of life and injuries to passengers, $20,000 damage was done to the coaches which were wrecked and burned. The dead and injured are as follows:

Killed—George Nelson, section boss, Jeffersontown.

Seriously injured—H. H. Burbank, engineer, fracture of left hip; J. A. Roberts, fireman, badly scalded on left shoulder and on the side of the waist and on back of left arm to the wrist; Jesse Kelly, compound fracture at right forearm, will require amputation.

The train was returning from a picnic at Louisville Southern park and had on board 250 people, who had gone out in the morning with the Louisville bookbinders and paper cutters' union. The wreck is thought to have been caused by the spreading of the track.

DR. BECK IN TROUBLE.

He Talked About the Emperor and Got Locked Up.

Newark, N. J., July 5.—Charles Mink, sr., of this city, has received a letter from Ebling, Wurtemburg, Germany, which states that Dr. Tragitt Beck, of Newark, has been arrested by the German police for using language disrespectful to the emperor. He is in prison and his friends are trying to have him released. Dr. Beck is well known in Newark. He is a pioneer German of this city and has been a citizen of the United States for 40 years.

SHOT HIM TO PIECES.

Another Negro Riddled With Bullets.

A Posse of Men and Numerous Dogs Drive Him Into a Tree.

Birmingham, Ala., July 5.—News was received in this city yesterday of the attempted outrage of two women near Jasper, some 30 miles from here by a negro. Sunday morning the negro was passing along the road by the house of the Bickwells, a few miles from Jasper. Miss Bickwell, a young woman, was in the lane near the house. The negro caught her by the arm, but her screams caused him to run off, and she ran into the house.

A few hours afterward the negro crossed the field of Mr. William Kilgore. Mrs. Kilgore was gathering berries not far from the house. The negro caught her, but she screamed so loudly that it brought her husband who was at the house to her assistance.

The negro became frightened and ran away. The husband followed him to Black Warrior creek and fired several shots at him. With the assistance of dogs, the chase was continued and yesterday morning at an early hour the negro was found in a tree. There was no less than 200 men and numerous dogs on his trail. As soon as discovered volley after volley was poured into him, tearing his body to pieces. The negro's name is not known.

MURDERED.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 5.—Yesterday Frank Helmsletter, aged 26, was murdered by three Italians, at his home in the Eighteenth ward. The people concerned in the affair live in the same house. All of yesterday was spent by the men and their families in drinking.

DAMAGED BY STORMS.

London, July 5.—A dispatch from Capetown says the bark Fannie Skolfield, from New York for Saigon, has put in there with damaged steering gear and hatches stove in. She also lost some of her sails. Her cargo appears to have received no damage.

BADLY INJURED.

Fremont, O., July 5.—(Special.)—Ben Tuttle, while celebrating the Fourth at Clyde, was seriously and probably fatally injured by the bursting of a gun. Part of his neck was torn away.

OCEAN MARINE.

Bremen, July 5.—Steamer Ems, from New York via Southampton, arrived last night.

Southampton, July 5.—Sailed, 9 p. m., 3d—Steamer Kaiser Wilhelm for New York.

BURGLARY.

Delphos, O., July 5.—(Special)—Sheeters & Miller's barber shop was broken into last night and $30 worth of tools and $11 in money was taken. No clue.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

Lemare, Cal., July 5.—Three brothers named Martin were drowned yesterday afternoon in Kings river while bathing.

LEAPED INTO THE SEA.

A Woman Commits Suicide in Mid-Ocean.

New York, July 5.—Mrs. August Seyd, overwhelmed with grief at the death of her husband, August Seyd, late manager of the International News company, committed suicide by jumping into sea at mid-ocean from the steamer Saale during her recent trip.

The Saale arrived in port last Tuesday but the matter only leaked out yesterday. It is probable that Capt. Ringk will be called to account by the port authorities for neglecting to report the affair.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

Sherman, Texas, July 5.—M. M. Pierce, a farmer living near Pottsboro, in this (Grayson) county, suspected Morgan E. Pack, his farm hand, and Mrs. Pierce of being too intimate.

Yesterday Pierce shot Pack dead with a rifle and then cut his wife's throat. After committing these crimes he lay down by his wife's side and cut his own throat.

FOURTEEN LIVES LOST.

Wreck of the Big Iron Ship Peter Stuart.

The Captain's Wife and Child Were Among the Number Who Were Lost.

Yarmouth, N. S., July 5.—A sandship wreck, involving the loss of 14 lives, occurred in Yarmouth harbor Sunday night.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning a great quantities of deals drifted ashore north of Cheboygne Point, and then a damaged life boat with 13 exhausted sailors was washed ashore in the surf and the men were helped up to the houses and cared for.

They proved to be Captain Henry Hughes, his first mate and eleven of the crew of the Liverpool iron ship Peter Stuart, bound for St. John from Liverpool with deals.

The second mate and 13 others, including the captain's wife and child, were drowned. At 8 o'clock Sunday evening the ship struck on some rocks off Cheboygne Point supposed to be Gannet rock ledge.

The ship broke up and all the boats but the life boat were smashed. In cutting away the life boat she capsized, and the captain's wife and child were never seen again.

Some of the crew who were thrown on the floating deals from the broken up vessel, managed to right the boat and found the captain still alive underneath. All who could be seen were picked up, and the boat stood by till daylight, when the first mate and some of the others were picked up.

Eighteen out of 27 lives started away from the scene of the wreck, not a vistage of the vessel remaining.

The boat had been damaged and was again capsized, but they got her righted and steered towards land. Four more had, however, been lost, and before they got to land it was found that the dead body of Alexander Troop was washing about in the almost submerged boat, and the corpse was pushed off. This body drifted ashore, and so far has been the only one recovered.

The captain, mate and several of the crew were badly bruised and the sailmaker had his leg broken.

The Peter Stuart was loaded by Alexander Gibson and the cargo was probably insured. The vessel was uninsured. She was owned by Thomas Stevens & Son, of London.

THE BALLOON COLLAPSED

Two Deaths from an Accident in Boston.

The Air Ship Governor Russell Dumps Her Human Cargo in the Water.

Boston, July 5.—Delos E. Goldsmith, the only survivor of those who ascended in the balloon yesterday, told the story of the trip as he lay on a cot in the hospital last night. He said:

When the balloon rose in the air the sun was declining and the scene from the car was beautiful. We all anticipated an enjoyable trip.

"At first it seemed as if the balloon would take a westerly course, but a strong wind from the west suddenly arose and swept it towards South Boston. It was soon evident that we were heading for the harbor. It was then that Prof. Rogers said we would land on Thompson's island. To fail of this we all knew meant to be carried to sea. The professor seemed to realize this, as he became a trifle nervous.

"He pulled the escape valve cord, but the cord refused to work. It was then a question of life or death. Again and again he pulled. For a moment the huge mass shook and quivered. Soon our position became uncomfortable because of the odor of the gas. To mitigate this, the hold on the cord was relaxed. To our amazement the valve refused to close. Prof. Foster kept his hold on the rope. Suddenly a noise overhead caused us to look up. There was a small rent in the balloon which, as the gas escaped, increased to a yard. At first slowly and then like an arrow the balloon descended.

"In this awful descent it occurred to me that two carrier pigeons were in the bottom of the car. With one wrench I pulled the cover from the cage and they were free. A moment later we struck the water. It seemed as if I went ten feet below the surface. I knew we would have to swim and before we struck the water I had thrown my coat away. I had not time to remove my shoes, but while in the water I lay on my back and removed them.

"Then I became tangled up in the netting. When we came up I wiggled free and jumped out of the basket. The land seemed far away, though I am told it was only 500 yards. All this time I heard Professor Rogers behind me and supposed he was swimming for the shore. I felt sick at the stomach as I swam, from the effects of breathing the gas and if I had not been picked up quickly I would have soon given out.

"Whether Prof. Rogers died from the effects of the gas or from his fall, I don't know. He was near me all the time until he sank in my wake."

Goldsmith is 23 years old. He is fond of athletics and is an expert yachtsman and swimmer. He is suffering severely from nervous shock, but will be able probably to leave the hospital to-day.

LEAVING A SINKING SHIP

Campbell Will Not Run the Campaign.

The Illinois Man Has No Special Love for a Losing Cause and Will Resign.

New York, July 5.—A special to the World from Milwaukee says:

H. C. Payne, the Wisconsin republican leader and member of the national committee, sent the following telegram yesterday to Gen. Clarkson:

"Campbell will decline. Keep this private. I am posting our Washington friends so as to secure wisest action. Campbell will be in Washington to-morrow."

There is a rumor that Mr. Payne himself is possibly to be chosen in place of Campbell.

ONE YEAR WITH M'KINLEY

Net Cash in the Treasury Shrinks One-Half.

Receipts Fall Far Below the Estimates.

An Interesting Statement of the Country's Finances Which Every Voter Should Read.

Washington, D. C., July 5.—The first year of the complete operation of the McKinley tariff ended Friday, with a net cash balance in the treasury of less than half what it was a year ago, with the net gold in the treasury $3,325,356 less than it was a year ago, and with the imports for the first 11 months of the year $16,000,000 less.

The depletion of the treasury and the export of gold have gone hand in hand with shackled trade and prohibitory duties.

The receipts from customs duties, estimated by Secretary Foster last November at $185,000,000, have reached during the year only $177,883,034, while the receipts from all sources, estimated at $362,000,000, have yielded only $353,955,464.

The expenditures have been rigorously held down, but they have exceeded the estimates by $7,000,000, and have reached $344,115,948, without counting any payments to the sinking funds.

The surplus for the year, estimated last November at $24,000,000, is less than $9,000,000.

The bonded debt, which was $610,529,120 a year ago, has been reduced to $585,029,330 by the redemption of a part of the 4 1-2 per cent. bonds, but the redemption money has been taken out of the savings of previous years, and has reduced the net cash balance to the lowest point it has reached in many years.

The amount to-day is $26,692,377, where a year ago it was $53,893,908.

This low cash balance can only be made available in good money by setting off the worn out fractional silver and the bank deposits against the balances of disbursing officers as their only security.

The subsidiary silver in the treasury is $14,224,714, and the general deposits in national banks are $13,148,188.

The free gold, which was $130,740,630 only six months ago, is now $114,342,366, and as $100,000,000 is the sum which has generally been considered as set aside for the security of the legal tender notes, only $14,342,366 remains upon which to rest the inverted apex of the broadening pyramid of silver notes issued under the act of 1890.

The issue of these notes have now reached $101,712,071, and as the silver bullion, which has been piling up in the treasury is useless for their redemption, the government has only 14 per cent. of their value in gold with which to redeem them.

The accumulations of silver in coin and bullion have reached the amount of $448,083,161, exceeding the entire stock of gold by more than $190,000,000.

The imports and exports for the entire 12 months of the fiscal year will not be available for some few weeks, but the figures for 11 months indicated a shrinkage in spite of the growth of the country, which bodes no good to the future of foreign trade.

The exports have been large because of the short crops in Europe, and this should have brought gold by the millions to our shores, but exports of gold continue, and nothing but the enormous exports of food stuffs appear to have avoided the calamities which the billion-dollar congress and the McKinley tariff legislation invited upon the country.

SHAMEFUL SCENES.

Rioting Continues in Ireland as of Old.

A Mob, Led by a Priest, Comes Very Near Storming Two Parnellites to Death.

Dublin, July 5.—Mr. Plunkett, the Parnellite candidate for member of parliament for the middle division of Tyrone, accompanied by his backer, Mr. Killeen, and a number of other members of his party, went to the chapel at Lough Macrory Sunday.

Father Murphy, the priest, who conducted the services, seized upon the occasion to denounce Mr. Plunkett, saying in the course of his remarks that he would not be allowed to spread his blackguardism there.

Mr. Plunkett and his companions thereupon withdrew to the chapel yard. The people, incited by the priest, rushed out of the chapel and savagely maltreated them. Every member of the party was kicked and pelted with stones and other missiles. Mr. Plunkett was badly hurt about the head and face. Mr. Killeen was thrown to the ground, and while some of the crowd were mauling him, Father Murphy called to them not to kill him. The Parnellites finally succeeded in fighting their way to a wagonette which was in waiting for them and escaped from the mob.

Mr. E. Leamy, the Parnellite candidate for member of parliament for the east division of Waterford, and a party of his supporters, were attacked by a number of McCarthyites at Kilmacthomas and a desperate fight occurred between the two factions, during which many of the contestants were seriously injured. An attempt was made yesterday to wreck a special train upon which there were 300 members of the Parnellite branch of the Irish party en route to Lisdeen, County Clare, to attend a political meeting to be held there.

The work of the wreckers was discovered shortly before the train reached the spot where it was designed to throw it from the track and the engineer was signalled to stop. He did so and on investigation it was found that a number of bolts and plates along the line had been broken and that the rails had been forced apart. The friendly warning given to the engineer alone averted a catastrophe.

TAMMANY CELEBRATES.

New York, July 5.—The one hundred and sixteenth anniversary of American independence was celebrated on an elaborate scale yesterday morning by the Tammany society, or Columbian Order, in the Fourteenth street wigwam. Every seat in the body of the hall and in the gallery was occupied.

NAMED A TICKET

Weaver and Fields to Lead the Independents.

A Turbulent Convention Held in Omaha.

A Platform as Long as the Moral Law.

Exciting Scenes During the Balloting.

The Iowa Man Was Far in the Lead from the Start and His Nomination Was Made Unanimous.

Omaha, July 5.—The people's party convention was slow in coming to order on Monday. The credential committee reported no contests and the permanent officers were named as follows:

For permanent chairman, H. L. Loucks, South Dakota. (Prolonged applause.)

For permanent secretary, J. W. Hayes, New Jersey. (Applause.)

For assistant secretaries, S. S. Wing, of Kansas; George Wilson, Michigan; G. W. Denmark, South Carolina; D. R. Monroe, Idaho.

Following this was also a long list of vice-chairmen, each state being represented in the distribution of this honor. The report was unanimously adopted amid applause, and Temporary Chairman Ellington at once introduced his successor.

It was a picturesque spectacle when Permanent Chairman Loucks, standing firmly on his one leg and swinging a crutch at arm's length, waved the great assemblage to order. His speech as it progressed was a surprise, and perhaps a disagreeable one, to the majority of the convention, but its impetuosity and fire, if not its hits for and against candidates, elicited cheers at every few words.

He neatly returned thanks for the honor done him; alluded to the importance of the convention; offered congratulations to the party on its progress, and the determination to have no slate, to choose candidates on principles; get back to the greenback origin of the party, and suggested proceeding to the business of naming a man they hoped to see occupy the White House for the next four years.

The Platform.

The committee on rules submitted its report. One clause read: "In case no nominee shall receive a majority on the first ballot, a second shall at once be taken whereon each delegate must write on his second choice, placing the names in the order of his choice. First, choice first; second, a first choice being counted as one vote and second choice as half a vote. The two receiving the largest number of votes shall be voted on the third ballot, votes for the other persons not being counted."

Vociferous signs of disapproval greeted the reading of this paragraph and after some discussion it was stricken out and an amendment inserted providing that after the second ballot all candidates except the two leaders shall be retired, and that candidates be voted for until there was a choice.

As the reading progressed the planks were cheered and at its finish was adopted with a hurrah as follows:

Assembled upon the one hundredth and sixteenth anniversary of the declaration of independence the people's party of America invoking upon their action the blessing of Almighty God puts forth in the name and on behalf of this country the following preamble and platform:

The conditions which surround us best justify of our co-operation we meet in the midst of a nation brought to the verge of moral, political and material ruin. Corruption dominates the ballot box, the legislatures, the congress, and touches even the ermine of the bench. The people are demoralized; most of the states have been compelled to isolate the voters at the polling places to prevent universal intimidation or bribery. The newspapers are largely subsidized or muzzled; public opinion is silenced; business prostrated; our homes covered with mortgages; labor impoverished; and the land concentrating in the hands of the capitalists. The urban workmen are denied the right of organization for self-protection; imported pauperized labor beats down their wages; a hireling standing army, unrecognized by our laws, is established to shoot them down and they are rapidly degenerating into European conditions. The fruits of toil of millions are boldly stolen to build up colossal fortunes for a few, unprecedented in the history of mankind; and the possessors of these, in turn, despise the republic and endanger liberty. From the same prolific womb of governmental injustice we breed the two great classes—tramps and millionaires.

The power to create money is appropriated to rich bondholders; silver, which has been accepted as coin since the dawn of history, has been demonetized to the purchasing power of gold by decreasing the value of all the forms of property as well as human labor, and the supply of currency is purposely abridged to fatten usurpers, and enslave industry. A vast conspiracy against mankind has been organized on two continents and it is rapidly progressing throughout the world. If not met and overthrown at once it forbodes terrible disasters as the establishment of an absolute despotism. We have witnessed for more than a quarter of a century struggles of the two great political parties for power and plunder, while grievous wrongs have been inflicted upon the suffering people. We charge the controlling influences dominating both these parties have permitted the existing declarations to develop without serious effect to prevent or restrain them. Neither do they now promise us any substantial reform. They have agreed together to ignore, in the coming campaign, every issue but one. They propose to drown the outcries of a plundered people with the uproar of a battle over the capitalists, rings, trusts, watered stock, the demonetization of silver and the expressions of the usurers may all be lost sight of. They propose to sacrifice our homes, lives and children on the altar of Mammon; to destroy the multitude in order to secure corruption funds from the millionaires.

Assembled on the anniversary of the birthday of the nation and filled with the spirit of the grand generation who established our independence, we seek to restore the government of the republic to the hands of "the plain people," with whose class it originated. We assert our purposes to be identical with the purposes of the national constitution, to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessing for ourselves and our posterity.

We declare that the civil war is over and that every passion and resentment which grew out of it must die with it, and that we must be in fact, as we are in name, one united brotherhood of free men.

Our country finds itself confronted by conditions for which there is no precedent in the history of the world; our annual agricultural productions amount to billions of dollars in value, which must be exchanged for billions of dollars of commodities consumed here. The existing currency supply is wholly inadequate to make the exchange; the results are falling of prices, the formation of combines and rings, the impoverishment of the producing classes. We pledge ourselves that if given powers we will labor to correct these evils by wise and reasonable legislation, in accordance with the terms of our platform.

We believe that the powers of government—in other words of the people—should be expanded (as in the case of the postal service), and rapidly and as far as the good sense of an intelligent people and the teachings of experience shall justify, to the end that oppression, injustice and poverty shall eventually cease in the land. While our sympathies as a party of reform are naturally upon the side of every proposition which will tend to make men intelligent and temperate, we nevertheless regard these questions—important as they are—as secondary to the great issues now pressing for solution, and upon which not only our individual preferences, but the very existence of society depends; and we ask all men to help us determine whether we are to have a republic to administer, before we differ as to the conditions upon which it is to be administered, believing that the forces of reform this day organized will never cease to move forward until every wrong is remedied, and equal rights and equal privileges securely established for all the men and women of this country.

We declare, therefore:

First—That the union of the labor forces of the United States this day consummated shall be permanent and perpetual; may its spirit enter into all hearts for the salvation of the republic and the uplifting of mankind.

Second—Wealth belongs to him who creates it, and every dollar taken from industry without an equivalent is robbery.

"If any will not work neither shall he eat."

The interests of rural and civic labor are the same; their enemies are identical.

Third—We believe that the time has come when the railroad corporations will either own the people or the people must own the railroads, and should the government enter upon the work of owning and managing all roads, we should favor an amendment to the constitution by which all persons in the government service shall be placed under a civil service regulation of the most rigid character so as to prevent the increase of the power of the national administration by the use of such additional government employes.

We demand a national currency, safe, sure and flexible, issued by the national government only as full legal tender for all legal debts, public and private, and that without the use of banking corporations, a just, equitable and efficient means of distribution direct to the people, at a tax not to exceed 2 per cent. per annum, to be provided as set forth in the subtreasury plan, to the farmers' alliance, or a better system; also by payments in discharge of its obligations for public improvements.

(A) We demand free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present ratio of 16 to 1.

(B) We demand that the amount of circulating medium be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

(C) We demand a graduated income tax.

(D) We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all state and national revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government economically administered.

(E) We demand that postal savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the earnings of the people and to facilitate exchange.

Transportation being a means of exchange and a public necessity, the government should own and operate the railroads in the interest of the people.

(A) Telegraph, telephone, like the post office system, being a necessity for the transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.

The land, including all the natural resources of wealth, is the heritage of the people and should not be monopolized for speculation by speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All land now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs, and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

Night Session.

The first actual business of the evening session was the reading by Chairman Branch, of the resolutions committee, of the following:

Supplement to the Platform.

Whereas, Other questions have been presented for our consideration, we hereby submit the following, not as a part of the platform of the people's party, but as resolutions expressive of the sentiment of this convention.

1. Resolved, That we demand a free ballot and a fair count in all elections, and pledge ourselves to secure it to every legal voter without federal intervention through the adoption by the states of the unperverted Australian or secret ballot system.

2. Resolved, That the revenue derived from a graduated income tax should be applied to the reduction of the burden of taxation now levied upon the domestic industries of this country.

3. Resolved, That we pledge our support to fair and liberal pensions to ex-Union soldiers and sailors.

4. Resolved, that we condemn the fallacy of protecting American labor under the present system, which opens our ports to the pauper and criminal classes of the world, and crowds out our wage-earners; and we denounce the present ineffective law against contract labor and demand the further restriction of undesirable immigration.

5. Resolved, That we cordially sympathize with the efforts of organized workingmen to shorten their hours of labor, and a rigid enforcement of the eight-hour law on government work, and that a penalty clause be added to the said law.

6. Resolved, That we regard the maintenance of a large standing army of mercenaries as a menace to our liberty, and we demand its abrogation.

7. Resolved, That we commend to the thoughtful consideration of the people and the reform press the legislative system known as the initiative and referendum.

8. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional provison limiting the office of president and vice president to one term, and providing for the election of the United States senators by the direct vote of the people.

9. Resolved, That we oppose any subsidity or national aid to any private corporation for any purpose.

The immigratin plank and anti-Pinkerton planks were loudly cheered. When the first paragraph, that relating to the force bill and the Australian ballot system, was read, a delegate moved to lay it on the table. They already had the St. Louis platform, he said. His motion got a second, but was beaten most decisively on a vote, nearly the whole convention voting no. The immigration and anti-Pinkerton planks were applauded loudly.

Mr. Branch introduced Hugh Cavanaugh, of Ohio, secretary of the resolutions committee, who read the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted by the committee:

Resolved, That this convention sympathizes with the Knights of Labor, with their righteous contest with the tyrannical combine of clothing manufacturers of Rochester, and declares it to be the duty of all who hate tyranny and oppression to refuse to purchase the goods made by the said manufacturers or to patronize any merchants who sell such goods. Adopted.

Then came the roll call of the states for the presentation of candidates for the presidency. The first state (Alabama) was scarcely shouted by the secretary when J. S. Manning arose and promptly placed in nomination Gen. Jas. B. Weaver, of Iowa, amid prolonged cheers.

An enthusiastic delegate from California said his state was divided on the presidency, but that he would vote for Weaver. (Applause).

The place of Colorado was yielded to Senator C. S. Norton, of Illinois, who said the man he should name had already won his spurs in the brainiest and shrewdest assembly in the United States. The man he should name stood there as a giant. One part of his strength consisted in the fact that he is a member of no faction. His candidate's brain was not measured by the girth of his waist. (Laughter). He was a man so great that no big white hat of an ancestor could hide him from the public gaze. His candidate was a broad and liberal-minded man. It was not impossible, or improbable, that the new party might place the man he would name in the white house—that grand, magnificent man, Jas. H. Kyle, of South Dakota. (Much cheering).

A Connecticut delegate said he would present one who came from the state which gave us a Washington and a Jefferson—Gen. James Field, of Virginia. (Applause).

Stephen H. Bashor, of Illinois, pastor of the Progressive church, said that the people's party was founded on principles, not men, and it demanded as leader its biggest, brainiest and squarest man in the party fold. That man was Senator Van Wyck, of Nebraska. (Cheers).

The principal speech for Gen. Weaver was made by Morris L. Wheat, of Iowa, Weaver's own state. Mr. Wheat referred to Gen. Weaver as one who "stands four-square to all the winds that blow, the intrepid advocate of the common people, the splendid captain of the 'Old Guard.'"

Mrs. Lease, of Kansas, seconded Weaver's nomination.

Maj. Henry Webb, of Massachusetts, candidate for governor of his state on the people's party ticket, seconded the nomination of Senator Kyle.

It was nearly 12 o'clock and the speeches were getting wearisome to the delegates, and besides, for sentimental reasons, it was desired to make the nomination before the Fourth had expired.

Delegate Brown, of Massachusetts, nominated Mr. Mann Page, of Virginia, and Delegate Fish, of Minnesota, nominated Ignatius Donnelly. Joe Waldorp, of Oregon, seconded the nomination of Weaver.

At this juncture Indiana, which had asked to be passed on the first call, made a request to be heard by the chairman of her delegation. He stated that Indiana had listened to all that had been said by her sister states in order to ascertain the choice of all the great states of the union. This choice had seemed to be for Gen. Weaver, of Iowa, and the solid vote of the Hoosier state would be cast for the Iowa candidate. (Prolonged applause).

A few minutes after midnight the Virginia delegation withdrew the names of its sons and declared unanimously in favor of Gen. Weaver.

G. B. Hanna, of Washington, supported the name of Weaver as a fitting representative of the people's party.

West Virginia announced it should cast a solid vote for Weaver.

The announcement from Indiana was the cue for other states, and there was quickly a landslide and a rush to get into the Weaver band wagon.

New York had been passed, and Farmer Dean now appeared on the stage and said that the New York delegates had agreed with New England to remain neutral and allow the south and west to select the candidate, and they would vote for the man selected. New York had said if you you want that judge of such renown (Gresham) and he will stand on the platform, it would vote for him. Now New York hoped Weaver's nomination would be made unanimous. It would vote solid for Weaver.

Mississippi swung solid into the Weaver line through an announcement from one of her delegates, ad others were on their feet to make similar announcements, but were cut short by an indignant protest from Schilling, of Wisconsin, that it was not fair to permit these announcements; and by allowing states to be called after they had been recognized, to stampede the convention.

C. C. Post, chairman of the Georgia delegation, got an opportunity, however, to say that Georgia, which had been one of the strongest states opposed to Weaver, would withdraw her support of Kyle, and, with the consent of the convention, make Weaver's nomination unanimous.

From the very beginning of the roll-call Weaver led all his competitors, and so overwhelmingly was the vote cast for him that his nomination was practically assured before the ballot was half completed. The Weaver infection seemed to spread as state after state cast its vote unanimously for the Iowa man. The Weaver people grew wildly enthusiastic, the culmination coming when the result was announced, the cheering being loud and long-continued.

The ballot gave Weaver 995, Kyle 265, Norton 1, Page 1, and Stanford 1.

Norton, of Illinois, moved to make the nomination unanimous, and Schilling, of Wisconsin; Washburn, of Massachusetts, and the delegates from South Dakota, Montana and Massachusetts seconded the motion. It was carried with a hurrah and loud cheering, ending with calls for Weaver.

Gen. J. G. Fields, of Virginia, was nominated on the first ballot for vice president.

KILLED HIS WIFE.

A Bloody Deed Reported from South Dakota.

Arlington, S. D., July 5.—A man named Thompson killed his wife and an old woman with a butcher knife yesterday.

Last winter he beat his wife nearly to death and tied her down cellar, where her neighbors released her.

He was on trial at the present term of court here but was bailed out and allowed to go home. His wife went with him, but remarked that she was afraid he would kill her. The other woman was a witness against him. He stabbed his wife five times. He admits his guilt and will probably be lynched.

BLAND TAKES A HAND.

He Will Push the Silver Bill in the House.

He Thinks the Bill is Defective and Says It May Have to Go Back to the Senate.

Washington, July 5.—Mr. Bland has returned and ready to take hold of the big end of the silver fight. His return was on account of the silver bill having passed the senate, and he is here to try to get it through.

He will call a meeting of the committee on coinage, weights and measures on Wednesday for the purpose of considering the measure and a speedy report is expected.

There is a complication in the situation, however, which embarrasses the silver men. Mr. Bland believes that the Stewart bill will have to be amended in order to prevent its being a practical repudiation of the silver clause now outstanding. Mr. Bland said to a Star reporter to-day:

"I have not had a chance to talk with members of the committee or with senators who are interested in silver, nor have I made a full investigation of the subject, but, looking the bill over, I fear it will have to be amended. It seems to me that by repealing the act of 1890, this bill deprives the eighty odd million of silver certificates of their legal tender quality.

"This would admit of a veto by the president without reference to the question of silver coinage, upon the grounds that the act repudiated the certificates as lawful money. The legal tender quality given these certificates when they were issued must be preserved; and if this act, by an inadvertency, deprives them of that quality, it must be amended before it is passed by the house. Of course, there was no intention on the part of the gentlemen proposing the bill to destroy the legal tender character of these certificates, and it may be that they have looked into the matter and discovered that it is all right, but it seems to me that there has been an oversight which must be corrected.

"It is unfortunate if we have to amend the bill, as it will then have to go back to the senate for further action, and its enemies then may be able to talk it to death; but it is better to do that than to pass it as it is, if it takes the legal tender quality from more than $80,000,000 in the hands of the people.

"I am, as I have said, talking without having consulted with those who prepared the bill, and it may be that I am mistaken. I hope I am.

"As far as the passage of the bill is concerned, I am sure we can accomplish that, if we can bring it to a vote. If it proves necessary to amend it, we will do so, and send it back to the senate for consideration. If it turns out that no amendment is necessary, the matter will be very simple."

LAKESIDE.

The Glorious Fourth Celebrated in Proper Style.

Lakeside, O., July 5.—(Special)—The "A. B. Chase Co.'s band" awakened the people of Lakeside about 4 a. m. Monday by discoursing strains of "Yankee Doodle," "Hail Columbia," and "The Star-Spangled Banner." Those whose slumbers were not disturbed by the music were surely awakened by the sunrise salute, which opened the day for Lakesiders.

The Baptist Young People's assembly, now in session, held a prayer meeting at 6 a. m.

At 10 a. m. the "A. B. Chase Co.'s band" gave one of the most novel concerts ever given at Lakeside.

During the concert Gov. McKinley and James H. Hoyt, Esq., of Cleveland, came down the isle and for some time nothing could be heard but the cheers and applause which greeted them.

At 2 p. m. the band, followed by Gov. McKinley, James H. Hoyt and many republicans and Baptists entered the auditorium amid the applause of the largest audience that has yet assembled since the season of 1892 began.

After an overture by the band the president of the day, James H. Hoyt, was introduced.

During the afternoon the Declaration of Independence was read by Rev. E. W. Lounsbury, of Dayton.

James H. Hoyt, Esq., delivered a short but very interesting and enthusiastic address, after which Gov. McKinley was greeted by an enthusiastic audience.

Gov. McKinley and James H. Hoyt left for Sandusky on the A. Wheele, Jr.

At 7 p. m. a concert was given by the "A. B. Chase Co.'s band" and Norwalk orchestra in the park.

At 8 p. m. an address, "The Baptists and Civil Liberty," by G. W. Lasher, D. D., Cincinnati, was delivered in the auditorium.

After the address music and fireworks in the park completed the celebration of another anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.

INFORMAL INSPECTION

Of the Columbian Club by Its Members.

Sunday afternoon the members of the Columbian club met at the new headquarters, the Coldham residence, corner of Adams and Michigan streets, and informally inspected the building.

The first banquet for members and their friends only will be given July 20, when the club will be officially opened.

TRAVELERS' PICNIC.

Toledo, Cleveland, and Detroit to Unite at Put-in-Bay.

Arrangements are being made by the commercial travelers' associations of Toledo, Detroit and Cleveland for a general picnic to be held at Put-in-Bay on July 23.

Mr. D. J. Caine, of this city, is agitating the subject in Toledo, and he hopes to see a big turn out on the occasion.

REAL ESTATE DEAL.

Mr. David Robison Buys a Handsome Home Site.

Hon. N. H. Swayne has sold to Mr. David Robison, Jr., 100 feet adjoining Mr. Samuel Backus' residence, corner of Twenty-third and Jefferson streets.

The price paid was $125 per front foot. Mr. Robison proposes erecting a handsome residence on the lot.

MR. ARMSTRONG'S MIRA

Won the Canoe Race Yesterday Afternoon.

The members of the Toledo Canoe club, with their ladies and friends, spent the Fourth at Grassy Point. After luncheon the much talked of canoe race came off. The entrances were the Mira, Chas. Armstrong; Entre Nous, Geo. Fry; Dux, R. Dawson; I X L, J. Miller; Clipper, John Rosier, and the Gem, Capt. Greene.

The race extended over a three-mile course; Chas. Armstrong piloted the Mira through first and Geo. Fry came in second. The prizes were silver cups. The canoeists spent a most enjoyable day.

SCALDED TO DEATH.

A Four-Year Old Child Falls into a Bath Tub.

Saturday evening Ernest C. Sitzenstock, who works for the Ketcham Furniture company and resides at 2261 Jerome street, made prepartions for taking a bath at his home. He turned the hot water on in the tub and then retired for a short time. On his return he found that his little 4-year old child had in some way fallen into the tub and was being horribly scalded. Everything that was possible was done for the unfortunate child, but without avail, as death resulted from the injuries, Sunday morning.

ON THE CREEK.

Hundreds of People Tried Their Hand at Fishing Yesterday.

Among the many places frequented by Toledo people enjoying a day's outing Ten Mile creek came in for its full share. Early yesterday morning the fishermen began to arrive and later numerous picnics made their appearance, and soon hundreds of boats dotted the pretty stream. The fishing has been excellent for several weeks, but Sunday rather spoiled yesterday's sport, yet some very good strings of perch and sun fish were coaxed out of the water and all concerned had a fine day's sport.

ROBERT ISENTHAL.

A Well-Known Young Toledo Boy, Dies in Colorado.

News reached Toledo, yesterday, of the death of Robert W. Isenthal, a former resident of the city, born and raised here, and who moved with his parents some ten years ago to Pittsburg. The young man was well and favorably known here and had hosts of friends who will be grieved at this sad intelligence. His health was poor, and he thought to obtain benefit in Colorado, but after nearly a two years' stay there the grim destroyer overtook him and he was buried at his home in Pittsburg yesterday. His father, Mr. Max Isenthal, was for many years in the jewelry business on Monroe street. The sympathy of this entire community is extended to the bereaved family.

DECLARED OFF.

Once More the Republican Ratification Proves a Fizzle.

Some of the more active republicans of the city have been making a desperate effort to prove that their party was still alive, and prepared a big sky-rocket show for Saturday evening, with the candidates for congress as speakers when the lights went out. Even the elements, however, appear to be against the party this year, and the rain came down in copious quantities during the day, which served as an excuse for the managers to silently fold their tents and steal away. The wet grass and several other little matters tended to make the big jollification of no effect, and as but few outside of the small boy was on hand at the hour arranged for the fusilade, postponement was announced until a more propitious occasion. Too bad.

HAND BLOWN OFF.

A Boy with a Home-Made Cannon Has Bad Luck.

Yesterday morning the 12-year old son of Undertaker Michael Hoedlinger, on the East Side, was playing with a home-made cannon, fashioned from a gas pipe, when it exploded and blew his left hand off. What remained was amputated at the wrist.

BIG LUMBER YARDS

And Planing Mills of Merrill, Ring & Co.

The Bee last week gave the particulars in the Merrill-Ring lumber enterprise to be started here. The company wants anywhere from 20 to 50 acres of land fronting on the river.

They are now negotiating for railroad switches and the erection of extensive docks.

HO, FOR THE ISLANDS.

Ohio Yacht Club Lads and Lassies Will Go Down.

The directors of the Ohio Yacht club will hold their next regular meeting at the summer club house at the island, Friday evening. The ladies and members will go along, and after a short business session there will be an entertainment and lots of fun.

NAARDEN, OF THE WALLACE,

Arrested for Selling Liquor Without a License.

This morning Deputy United States Marshal Dan Harmon arrested Roby Naarden, caterer on the steamer Wallace, on a charge of selling liquor without a license. He gave bond and will have a hearing before United States Commissioner Beckham to-morrow afternoon.

JUST SO.

There is a Rebellion Against Unlawful Acts.

The Columbus Dispatch has the following paragraph relative to the free employment bureau previousness of Commissioner Lewis:

There is a rebellion in the matter of the superintendents of the free employment agencies whom the present state administration have removed from office. Mr. Murphy, of the Toledo office, has formally refused to vacate, and declines to turn the position over to his successor, August Smith, recently appointed by Labor Commissioner Lewis. The question of the right of the commissioner to make the change before the expiration of the two years' time for which the commissions of the superintendents called will probably be tested in the courts.

TEMPORARILY CLOSED.

No News from the Ex-Manager of the Adams Store.

So far nothing has been heard from the missing manager of the Adams House Furnishing store or Mrs. Mrs. Levi. The store is closed, and the force to-day is employed in taking an inventory.

General Manager Quinn was asked by a Bee this morning to give any new developments, but he was non-committal.

"There is said to be a shortage of $2,000, Mr. Quinn," the Bee said.

"Well, I don't know any more about it than you do, and I can't tell anything until the books have been examined at headquarters."

"Don't you know if there is a shortage?"

"Well, if there is, it is not as much as claimed."

As far as he knows nothing had been heard from Seymour, and he knew nothing about Mrs. Levi.

LUCAS COUNTY'S ORPHANS

Celebrated Independence Day with a Flag Raising.

On the occasion of the June visit of the county commissioners and the ladies of the advisory board to the children's home, an account of which was given in the Bee, it was proposed by the ladies to procure a flag for the home, and to have the flag raising on July 4, and yesterday, from a 90-foot pole, straight as an arrow, was floated a beautiful flag, the gift of citizens of Toledo. Among those who contributed most liberally were Mr. M. I. Wilcox, Lamson Bros., Nelhausel Bros. and Conant Bros. Furniture company. The home was open to visitors from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., and a large number of people availed themselves of the opportunity to inspect the home under the perfect management of Mr. and Mrs. Neiss. The day was a gala one for the children, and they were greatly elated with the new flag.

THIRTEEN THOUSAND PEOPLE

Enjoyed River and Lake Excursions on Toledo Boats Yesterday.

Steamboat men say that never before on the Fourth have the Toledo boats been patronized to the extent they were yesterday. Hundreds of people who desired to go on the water could not be accommodated, and the inspectors time and time again stopped the crowd at the docks and ordered the steamers off.

The Pastime took 7,000 people to Presque Isle, and many more wanted to go. As it was, money was refunded to over 300 ticket holders who could not get on board. It was almost impossible to bring the people back from the island at night, and many walked to Ironville and took the cars home.

The City of Toledo took 928 passengers to the islands in the morning and 653 out on the evening moonlight ride.

The steamer Douglas took 325 to Monroe, and the Messenger carried 330 to Monroe and Stony Point. About 520 excursionists went to Detroit on the Idlewild.

The W. R. Burt took 1,900 people up the river and the Wallace about 500 or more.

About 13,000 people traveled on the boats yesterday out of the city. This estimate does not include return trips.

PRIVATE GAS PLANT.

Mr. Clarence Brown Has One on His Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown entertained about twenty-five friends at their country residence near Waterville yesterday, and a most delightful time is reported.

Mr. Brown has developed an excellent gas well on the farm, and it has an output sufficient to supply a little town. Yesterday it showed a pressure of 260 pounds.

THE KETCHAM HOTEL

To Be Erected at the Corner of Adams and St. Clair Streets.

Architect Fallis is preparing plans for an eight-story fire-proof hotel to be erected by and for Geo. H. Ketcham, on the northwest corner of St. Clair and Adams streets.

Mr. Ketcham said yesterday that he had been contemplating the erection of such an institution for some time.

The location is a very desirable one for a hotel, and if Mr. Ketcham succeeds in carrying out his ideas Toledo will have a hotel of which her people may feel proud. The estimated cost of such a hotel as Mr. Ketcham contemplates establishing will be about $400,000.

THE FREE EMPLOYMENT OFFICE

Legal Lights Come Together and Discuss the Situation.

This morning City Solicitor Read called on Mr. L. G. Richardson relative to the muss in the free employment office, but nothing definite was done.

Mr. Read, who represents Mr. Smith, is trying a bluff. He says the idea is to secure for his client the office, and that the present incumbent must get out or give reasons for remaining.

Mr. Richardson advises Mr. Murphy to remain and to see it out. It is probable that unless an understanding is arrived at to-day, some kind of legal proceedings will be commenced to-morrow or next day.

OFF FOR CHILLICOTHE.

Ladies' Aid Officers—Miss Kate Raynor Wanted for President.

The officers of the Ladies' Aid society, No. 56, of Mark E. Libley camp No. 18 Sons of Veterans, left over the Hocking Valley this mrning at 10 o'clock for Chillicothe, the place where their division encampment is being held. The party consisted of President Kate Raynor, vice President Anna Pennell, Past President Miss Klein, Cchaplain Mrs, Cora Sampson, Guide Mrs. Jennie Baldwin, Guard Miss Maude Pike. The Toledo society is the most proficient in ritualistic work of any society in the state and will exemplify the workings of the order before the encampment. The Toledo delegation will labor to place their president, Kate Raynor, in command of the division for 1893.

A MERRY PARTY

Of Young Folks Spent the Day at Manhattan Beach.

A merry party went to Manhattan Beach yesterday to shoot firecrackers, eat and blow off generally. The following ladies and gentlemen were there: Misses Bessie M. Brownsberger, Anna L. Fisher, Daisy Farley, Caddie Ransom, Bertha H. Sherman, Pearla Bowman, Carrie Weaver, Myrtle Huber, Minnie Jordan, Grace Secor, Grace Gillette, Jessie L. Durfee, Alma Durant, Erena Reasner, Daisy Burge, and Messrs. Wm. Ernst, Chas. Stratford, Paul B. Woolson, Richard Kirkley, Geo. L. Padgett, Harry Q. Altenberg, Donald O. Douglas, Kenneth Merrill, Orlo K. Marvin, Walden L. Laskey, Clifford C. Whitmore, Warren S. Herron, Albert A. Barber, J. Wm. Wilson and Russell M. Hiett.

After dinner Toastmaster C. Cyclorama Whitmore announced the following toasts:

Toast 1, "Oh, what's more fun than a picnic?"—A. Auroraborealis Barber.

Toast 2, One Year Ago—Anna L. Fisher.

Recitation, "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star."—Walden L. L. D. Laskey.

Toast 3, "The Best Thing Out"—H. Queue Altenberg.

Toast 4, The Fourth in Foreign Lands—Caddie Ransom.

Toast 5, The Ladies' Bonnets—W. Solomon Herron.

Oration, "Liberty Enlightening the World"—G. Lafferty Padgett.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

No End of Good Times on Land and Water.

The Fourth passed off pleasantly in and about Toledo. The people poured in on the trains from the country early in the morning, and with thousands of Toledoans poured out again on the boats. The steamers were crowded all day. The City of Toledo took at least 1,200 to Put-in Bay, the Idlewild carried over a thousand to Detroit, the W. R. Burt and the Wallace were kept busy running to Perrysburg and Marengo park, and the Pastime couldn't handle the crowds that desired to go to Presque Isle. The same may be said of the boats plying between the city and Monroe. Just where all the people came from that swarmed on all the steamers would be hard to imagine. At any rate they all had a good time, and that's sufficient for anybody to know.

The German citizens had a rousing celebration. Over 400 men appeared in the parade in the morning. The line of march ended at Metropolitan park, where the ladies were in waiting. Sports, singing, dancing and other amusements filled out a glorious day.

There were numerous private excursions, garden parties and the like, topped off with displays of fireworks in the evening. It would take quite a newspaper to tell all that was done on land and water, but as everybody was up and around, why of course everybody knows that everybody had a big time, and that it was one of the jolliest Fourths this vicinity has ever known.

FROM BORDER TO BORDER.

The Rapid Flight of the New York Central's Empire State Express.

Of no train can it be said that its flight is so carefully watched as is that of the great New York Central's Empire State Express in its passage from border to border of the grandest state in the union. This train has been an object of interest to the world and various have been the comments. At 8:30 o'clock in the morning this train pulls out from New York and its flight to Niagara Falls is lightning-like. It reaches the Falls Street station at 5:55 p. m., and the lower station five minutes later, passing in full view of the great cataract and the wonderful whirlpool rapids.—Niagara Falls Gazette, Niagara Falls, May 21, 1892.

THE TWENTIETH

Grover Says He Thinks Will Be a Good Day to Notify.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 5.—A letter from Grover Cleveland was received here by Norman E Mack, chairman of the subcommittee appointed by the Hon. W. L. Wilson, chairman of the committee appointed to notify Messrs. Cleveland and Stevenson of their nomination, stating that the 20th inst. would be a good day.

Mr. Mack will call his committee together a day or two before that date in New York for the purpose of conferring with the Hon. Wm. C. Whitney and Mayor Hugh Grant, in whose hands the matter of making arrangements for the notification has been placed. Mr. Mack expects to hear from Adlai Stevenson in a day or two.

TO THE CITIZENS OF TOLEDO

I have been asked many times during the day, "What about the statements made by Bennett & Peck in their card that appeared in the morning paper?" There is but one answer that I can make, namely, that nine-tenths of the statements contained in the article above referred to are false from beginning to end. The entire article contains hardly a truthful statement. A single illustration will suffice

"As to Mr. Smead's claim that we are infringing upon him, that matter has been tried and tried again in the courts and been decided against Mr. Smead time and time again."

They then quote from Judge Wallace's decision. It may be interesting to know that this garbled portion of the decision of Judge Wallace is a quotation from one of my own catalogues, written and published by myself four or five years ago, and was used by Judge Wallace in his long and interesting decision.

"Has been tried and tried again." There has never been but one decision, and that is the one decided by Judge Wallace a year ago. All the other cases (five in number) are dragging their slow length through the United States court. Anyone interested and desiring to secure the actual facts in the case, will find all these papers on file at my office. They are open to the inspection of everybody, even the attorneys who wrote the article for Bennett & Peck.

Let me quote a few lines from Judge Wallace:

"The change made by Smead in the organization of the Ruttan Closet, by inserting a vault in the form of a tube between the gathering chamber and the exit vent, adapted the vault to receive deposits distributed along its surface in comparatively small quantities at any given place, and to act as a duct for a condensed current of air. The deposits are thus exposed, intimately and effectually, to the air current that travels through the vault to the exit shaft. It was this change which made the dry closet of the patent a practical and commercial success, and led to its introduction in many public buildings. The testimony in the present record (there are several thousand pages) proves beyond peradventure that the dry closet patent is an extremely useful and valuable invention. No doubt is entertained that the novelty of the claim of the patent is not impeached by the closet described in the Ruttan book (and which Mr. Smead most fully describes and illustrates in his catalogue), or that the change made by the patentee in the organization of the devices of Ruttan was one that involved invention, etc., etc., etc."

As before stated, almost every statement made by those who are attempting to rob us of our rights can be easily contradicted. As to the question of financial responsibility of the two companies, I will count honestly earned dollars with either Bennett or Peck any time. It is possible that there is some difference between stock company and individual responsibility. It is true, however, that I would have more dollars than I have if it were not for those who are trying to counterfeit my work. Some of these copyists even print their letter-heads so that we can scarcely distinguish them from our own. ISAAC D. SMEAD.

France & Ottman, of the France Medical Institute, who have visited your city for the past year, cannot be classed with the numerous traveling doctors who make a visit to a town and never return. They make regular and continued visits as long as their patients require their services.

The doctors, by their courteous manner and candid dealing with their patients, have secured a good practice here, and are succeeding well in bringing relief to the afflicted, where so many pretenders have failed. The doctors came well recommended as physicians of true merit and gentlemen of high moral worth, ever ready and prompt to fulfill their obligations, setting a noble example to the many wandering jugglers calling themselves doctors. Those wishing to consult the best skilled specialists of the country, should improve the opportunity.

Drs. France & Ottman, formerly of New York, now of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo, Wednesday, July 6. Consultation and examination free and strictly confidential in the private parlor of the Burnett house, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

CHICAGO'S WONDERFUL GROWTH

If all the suburban trains in Chicago were to start at one depot, there are enough to commence at 6 a. m. and dispatch a train every minute until 9 p. m.

Chicago adds one to her population every nine minutes.

Values are growing as fast as the city, and Sheldon Heights is the best, highest, driest residence property on the South side—the direction of Chicago's best development—the world's fair end of town. The time to buy Chicago property is now, on the rising tide, and Sheldon Heights is the place to plant your money. If you mention this paper and send your name and address to Jas. E. & Robt. L. McElroy, Chamber of Commerce, Chicago, they will send you "The Way to Win," an illustrated booklet telling you the story of Chicago's wonders more fully than we can, in the limited space we can give the subject.

WHAT CURES PIMPLES

The only really successful preventive and cure is CUTICURA SOAP. A marvellous beautifier of world-wide celebrity, it is simply incomparable as a skin-purifying soap, unequalled for the toilet, and without a rival for the nursery. Absolutely pure, delicately medicated, exquisitely perfumed, it produces the whitest, clearest skin, and softest hands, and prevents inflammation and clogging of the pores, the cause of pimples, blackheads, red and oily skin, dry, thin, and falling hair.

CUTICURA SOAP

Derives its remarkable medicinal properties from CUTICURA, the great skin cure, but so delicately are they blended with the purest of toilet and nursery soap stocks that the result is a medicated toilet soap incomparably superior to all other skin and complexion soaps, while rivalling in delicacy and surpassing in purity the most expensive of toilet soaps.

Skins on Fire with itching, scaly, and blotchy skin and scalp diseases, are speedily, permanently, and economically cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES. Price: CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, 50c.; CUTICURA SOAP, 25c.; CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, $1.00. POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, Boston. If the Election Goes to Congress.

The People's party gives much interest to the national elections this year, though its candidate for president is not popular. The enthusiasts of the party believe they will be able to take the electoral vote of several states from the old parties, thus, at least, throwing the election of president and vice president into congress. For a new party that would be a great victory. It would give it a show of permanency in politics which was not conceded when the discordant elements of the organization made a cyclonic sensation in Kansas and South Carolina in 1890.

If the party developes such unexpected strength, then what? The house of representatives will elect the president, and the senate the vice president. This is provided by the constitution, if the electors of the several states fail to cast a clear majority for any candidate before the people. The election in congress will be by states and not by members. It so happens now, that in the house there is a majority of democratic states represented, and in the senate the republicans have the state majority. Each state is entitled to one vote, the votes being determined by the respective delegations in the house and senate, as the case may be. This provision of the constitution would result in the election of Grover Cleveland for president and Whitelaw Reid for vice president, though in the senate some curious results would occur. The vote of Ohio would be neutralized by the votes of Senators Brice and Sherman. The same in New York, between Hill and Hiscock, and in Wisconsin between Vilas and Spooner. Illinois likewise, between Palmer and Cullom. South Dakota and Kansas would each be neutralized by the vote of a republican and a People's party senator, while South Carolina would stop even between a democratic and a People's senator. It is also the privilege of any state to refuse to vote, as was done by South Carolina in 1824.

It will be seen that many complications may arise if the election goes to congress, which will keep up the interest until the final vote is announced. Another serious question will be raised, which the supreme court will probably be called upon to decide. The constitution provides that the electors shall not choose the president and vice president from the same state. Cleveland and Reid both reside in New York. Very likely, as big politics are involved, the court would construe the inhibition to apply only to the electoral college and not to congress. Twice in the history of the country congress was called upon to elect the president and vice president. Thomas Jefferson was elected over Aaron Burr in 1804, and in 1824 John Quincy Adams thus defeated Andrew Jackson.

The signs of politics point to a lively campaign, and this very element of uncertainty which the People's movement adds will give a freshness to modern politics that will make the election of 1892 memorable in our history.

The Great Ratification!

Three times and out is the old rule which works well. There might be an enthusiastic Toledo republican who would say that the three attempts to ratify Blaine's defeat meant one substantial hurrah for Harrison, but in practical politics that claim wouldn't go.

The facts are, the ratification endeavor is a flat fizzle because the Blaine men have determined that the government officers must be further humiliated. Waldorf disgraced the trio by letting Tucker and Wilson slip away from Harrison at Minneapolis, and now the administration is informed that the combined influence of Brown, Austin and Waldorf does not count for enough to get up one little fizz boom of a blow for Harrison's nomination. The whole Harrison crowd is turned down in great shape, and, as Toledo is directly in Charley Foster's bailiwick, the circumstance must be doubly humiliating to him. Even the announcement of those national characters, Griffin, Hamilton and Ashley, couldn't draw a crowd at a Harrison gathering in Toledo. It was real mean to blame the last fizzle on the weather, especially as the weather boss is a member of Benny's cabinet, but something had to be done, and that excuse served the purpose.

The Force Bill an Issue.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean is easily scared into the cry of "stop thief." It gets behind its unpopular high tax McKinley law and says the democrats put the Force bill at the front to distract attention from the tariff question. Bless your dear soul, no. The democrats couldn't if they would, and wouldn't if they could, dodge the tariff discussion. They are on the bed rock of honest principles and fair play, and there they build their faith and raise their expectations, and win their victory. Tax for revenue only. That flag is up to remain. It is the standard of freedom, the creative right to trade and barter without let or hindrance with whomsoever we choose at home or abroad. That doctrine is democratic in the broadest significance of the word.

But the Force bill. It also is an issue—made such by the fool leaders of the republican party in national convention. It was a past issue after the congressional elections in 1890 rebuked the republican party for advocating the infamous measure. It would have been wise party policy to have quit the offensive thing then and there, but baser policy and meaner schemes prevailed, and at Minneapolis, Tom Reed and Major McKinley resurrected the dead corpse and made it a living thing to be again killed by the American people. The Inter Ocean must not revile the democrats for making it prominently an issue. The democrats accept the gauge of battle thus offered and will pound out the life of the republican party with the club thus placed in their hands. The Force bill is an issue. It is made an issue by the republican platform. It is an issue by indorsement of the republican candidate. Its success means the revival of the sectional issue, which should have ceased a generation ago, and the substitution of bayonets for ballots wherever and whenever a partisan, tyrannical president may choose to exercise revolutionary authority.

The time and the occasion would be found, and to perpetuate republican rule is the object of the un-American measure. If the issue of the Force bill shall overshadow the other vital issue of the tariff in some sections, the republicans alone are to blame. This very Force bill may save the country to its real friends and defenders this year—the democratic party, the party of the people, the constitutional party of theAme rican republic.

The Omaha Convention.

The national conventions of '92 have each striven to outdo the other in spectacular effect. The recent assembly at Omaha had some picturesque features in lead of all the others. It was the first meeting of a new party formed of the most kaleidoscopic mass of views, opinions, hobbies and ideas that ever attempted to fuse into a working whole. It was a 4th of July celebration along with convention labors. There were processions and banners galore. There were a woman's bonnet and a coal-black negro's silk tile in the delegation march. There were glee clubs with songs that buried the wicked parties and politicians outside of the Omaha circle, deep in infamy and oblivion. There were 1,776 delegates (historic figures). There was the uncertain factor in the way of a candidate who followed precedent by fairly allowing his name to go before the convention before he was good enough to say them yea or nay. It was emphatically a south-and-west affair. Dominant New York said: "We await the action of the other states and are ready to acquiesce." Verily all the modesty and humility there is in the Empire state must have gathered together in the People's party. The chosen leader of these children in the wilderness is a man of parts, not a Judge Gresham, but a candidate more in harmony with the platform and the party. Judge Gresham was seriously considered by the republicans as their candidate, and to be qualified for such position, he must stand for everything that the new party complains of, an advocate of the measures that most grievously oppress the producing masses of the country. So while Judge Gresham's declination was a disappointment, if the eternal fitness of things is considered, the Shakesperean "divinity" that shapes events has wisely wrought by interference.

Again Mr. Weaver.

Thus early is it evident that the People's party stands for the man more than for principles that will win at the election. When Judge Gresham seemed to be the coming man the new party was buoyant with hope, while republicans in several states, notably Indiana, were correspondingly distressed. When Gresham declined in advance of the convention, interest in the coming proceedings lagged. Now that Gen. Weaver, of Iowa, is nominated, the party itself has little expectation of accomplishing much this year, though some of the so-called silver states may be in doubt and Gen. Weaver's friends make large claims of Iowa's loyal support. Mr. Weaver was the Greenback candidate for president in 1884 and polled less than 400,000 votes in the whole country.

Silver in the House.

The democrats in the house of representatives should not be caught in the well-baited trap which the republicans have set for them. A free silver bill is sent to the house by the republican senate, with the hope that the silver representatives will rally to its passage, that the republican president, himself a candidate for re-election, may veto it. This is the politics of the situation. The two political parties are committed against free silver. The two candidates are in accord with their party platforms. Mr. Harrison would like to emphasize his opposition by vetoing a free silver bill. The republican senators have set the trap. It remains to be seen if Speaker Crisp will permit the silver enthusiasts to rush the democratic house to disaster.

In the death of Prof. Theodore Woolsey Dwight, the legal profession in this country has lost one of its brightest lights. A vacancy is made in the Columbia College faculty that will be difficult to fill. He created the Columbia law school, and was its dean for more than thirty years. When the heroes of war and of public life go hence, the bands play dirges and the demonstrations are loud and conspicuous. When the scholar who gives the gold dust of his mind to enrich the minds of his fellow men departs, the sense of his loss is expressed in a few quiet lines. Perhaps when this new country shall grow older, mental worth and the conquests of peace may find merited recognition. To-day the profound scholar slips out very quietly and a comparatively small circle comprehend the loss to the mental wealth of the country.

It is affirmed that Gresham declined to switch off into the new party under promise of the vacant seat on the United States supreme bench. The longer President Harrison leaves the office unfilled the stronger will be the belief that a deal is made with Gresham.

Up to date: Harrison and Reid, Cleveland and Stevenson, Bidwell and Cranfill, Weaver and Fields,—Indiana and New York, New York and Illinois, California and Texas, Iowa and Virginia. Here we go, from now to next November.

Weaver and Fields: there you have it. If the Weaver shall weave his web skillfully and the men from the Fields come up strong, the hurrah at Omaha may be something more than a Fourth of July celebration.

The newspapers of New York, democrat, republican and mugwump, are calling Senator Hill to task for voting for the Stewart free silver bill.

Senators Brice and Sherman represented their constituents in voting against the free silver bill.

One year of McKinleyism has worked disaster to the national treasury.

The state college of Delaware, has a curious and tragic touch in its history. The university was established in 1834, but during the whole decade between 1860 and 1870 its doors were closed, apparently for good. Its coma came of the slaying of one student by another. A son of the chancellor of the state was accused of the crime, but the evidence was insufficient to hold him, and others brought to trial for the crime were cleared. When the next college year following the tragedy opened so few students returned that the institution was closed.

TO MEET IN TOLEDO.

Democratic State Central Committee

Called to Assemble on Friday Afternoon to Elect Officers and a Campaign Committee.

Temporary Chairman Crites, of the democratic state central committee, has called the members to meet in Toledo on Friday afternoon of this week at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of selecting permanent officers, as well as an executive committee, to manage the campaign.

An effort is being made to secure the consent of Hon. James E. Neal, of Butler county, to again serve as chairman of the executive committee, but as it requires more time than he can give from his private affairs, it is feared he will not act. Hon. L. C. Cole is mentioned as secretary.

For the permanent chairmanship of the state committee there is some rivalry. Besides Mr. Crites, Senator Sutton, of Putnam county, and W. J. Clark, of Franklin, would like to preside. All are acceptable gentlemen, but since Mr. Crites is already in the harness, it is more than probable he will be found at the head of the committee when the election is over.

Toledo will extend a cordial welcome to the committeemen and visitors.

THE BIG ERIE CANAL.

The Great Waterway is on the Decline.

It Will Have to be Abandoned Before Long if Not Deepened and Improved.

Buffalo, July 5.—The Erie canal is in a bad way. Even its best friends are losing hope, and if something is not done to divert it from the down grade it has taken the time is not far distant when it will be a lone ditch, without a boat to navigate it. The 30,000,000 bushels of grain carried by it last year was a heavy decrease from former years, yet Buffalo never before received so much grain. This season the amount carried is pretty sure to be still smaller by an alarming percentage. The veto last winter of the $500,000 repair bill by Gov. Flower, was not only a blow to the direct interests of the canal, but it showed for the first time that the enemies of New York's once proud waterway were in the ascendency. In the previous session the bill for extraordinary repairs failed, but the failure was laid to politics, and no great alarm was taken by canal men on account of it. The canal is fairly well maintained by funds obtained from the regular supply bill, and there is no complaint from the boatmen as to depth of water, but the difficulty lies in the fact that for 30 years nothing has been done, beyond lengthening some of the locks, to keep the canal up with the times. The railroads have simply outrun it. They are expending millions every year for extraordinary improvements.

Twenty-five years ago the New York Central railroad was running trains of 24 cars, carrying 500 bushels each. Now, with its mogul engines, it runs trains of 50 cars, of 1,000 bushels' capacity. Every year the cost of carrying freight by rail is reduced. Last season it was a matter of surprise when canal men found that the roads were carrying wheat to New York at less than 5 cents a bushel. It was soon found that the Buffalo charges were also paid by the roads. This week a grain receiver stated on 'change that he had shipped wheat by rail to New York at 2 7-8c a bushel, with weights guaranteed and all Buffalo charges paid. This sort of competation cannot be met by the canal without the employment of effort and the use of means not within the scope of the ordinary canal boatman or forwarder. The forwarders are unable to sit down and see nearly all the grain coming in billed through to the east by rail. They are also at a disadvatnage from the elevators, both here and at New York. Though the boats do not pay for elevation the grain carried by them must pay about a cent, a bushel for handling at each end of the canal trip, while all grain shipped from here by rail pays elevation one week only to have it rebated by the road next week.

In spite of all this discouragement, there is a remedy in sight, if only there are those at hand to take advantage of the situation, and if the state can be induced to improve the canal at least 10,000-bushel cargoes instead of the present 8,000 bushels. It must be confessed that there must be an extraordinary effort made to secure state aid to do this work speedily, as it must be done soon to be of account. With the added depth, the boatmen say they can carry wheat for 2c and make money. Now they are starving at 2 1-4c, largely because they are unable to obtain cargoes at all on account of the terminal charges. With elevators of their own in Buffalo and New York that charge only actual expenses, and with cargoes in five figures, the boatmen feel that they would be forever independent of the roads, for the water route, with equal chances, is much cheaper naturally. With either the deeper canal or the control of the terminals and the prospect of securing the other soon, the boats could easily keep along until profit could be secured through the addition of the second desideratum, but with neither there is nothing left but starvation. It remains to be seen whether personal energy and state confidence will combine to restore the lead so long enjoyed by the canal. The prospect is not at present particularly bright, though the effort is being made to wake up the commercial interests of the state and bring them to the aid of the canal.

For practical purposes the Mediterranean may be accepted as being what it is popularly supposed to be, a tideless sea, but it is not so in reality. In many places there is a distinct rise and fall, though this is more frequently due to winds and currents than to lunar attraction. At Venice there is a rise of from one to two feet in spring tides according to the prevalence of winds up or down the Adriatic. In many straits and narrow arms of the sea there is a periodical flux and reflux, but the only place where the tidal influence, properly so called, is unmistakably observed is in the Gulf of Gabes, where the tide runs at the rate of two or three knots an hour, and the rise and fall varies from three to eight feet.

THE ELOCUTIONISTS

In New York—Some Toledo Ladies Present—Big Reception.

Special Correspondence Toledo Bee.

New York, July 5.—The first national convention of elocutionists held its opening session at Columbia college and continued through the week. Judging from the grand success of the past few days the convention will be of greatest importance to public readers and teachers and will serve to bring into greater recognition one of the finest branches of education. The most prominent elocutionists from the United States and Canada are in attendance, and the deepest interest is manifested at every session. Tuesday evening Mr. Edgar S. Werner gave an elegant concert and banquet at "The Brunswick" on Fifth avenue, and it was a most brilliant affair. About 500 invited guests were present and the spacious parlors were filled with the gifted throng, who were most gracefully received by Miss Helen Potter, Miss Elsie Wilbor, Miss Mary S. Thompson and Miss Caroline B. Le Row.

The soft radiance of the gas light shone down upon shimmering satins, costly laces and sparkling diamonds.

At 10 o'clock the guests repaired to the concert hall, which was beautiful with its luxuriant drapings of velvet, massive mirrors, and artistic decorations of stately palms and dainty ferns. Here a choice musicale of six numbers was given by some of New York's most celebrated talent. Each selection was a gem and most heartily received and encored.

At the close of the program dainty refreshments were served and the remaining hours were spent in social conversation and interchange of thought upon the great subject which had brought them together through the earnest effort of Mr. Werner, who stands alone before the world of elocutionists a brilliant guide and leader.

hospitality were:

Miss Helen Potter, of New York, the eminent impersonater, was stately in heavy white silk en traine, with overdress of tulle shot with silver.

Mrs. Anna Randall-Diehl, of New York, the celebrated author and teacher, was elegant in a white-corded silk en traine, with overdress of swansdown.

Mrs. Emma Dunning-Banks, of Bridgeport, Conn., also famous as teacher and author, was charming in a lovely pink silk and chiffon.

Miss Elsie M. Wilbor, of New York, the talented associate editor of Werner's Voice Manazine, was very sweet in heavy pink silk.

Miss Edith LeGierce, of New York, the skillful harp soloist, was petite and lovely in a gown of yellow silk with lace garniture.

Miss Jassamine Hallenbeck, of New York, the sweet soprano soloist, wore heavy pink satin and velvet, en traine.

Miss Dora Valesca Becker, of New York, who charmed all with her violin solos, wore a dainty blue silk with girdle of beads.

Miss Mary Helena Zarchos, of New York, was attired in a lovely white mull.

CURRENT COMMENT.

If as Reid said the shopping women beat the McKinley bill in the congressional elections of 1890, there may be more of the same kind in store for it this year.—Philadelphia Times.

Whitelaw Reid upon a platform of protection to workingmen is a spectacle that will no doubt shake Cleopatra's needle to pieces with mirth. Americans are a humorous people, proverbially able and willing to enjoy a joke, but the funniest thing that a humorous person ever did was to place Reid upon such a platform.—Harrisburg Patriot.

The democratic party has already received valuable campaign assistance from the errors of the republicans. If the message sent from Washington to Omaha by the third party congressmen is an indication of the lines on which they propose to make their campaign, the democratic party will also be greatly strengthened by their opposition.—New York World.

It is significant of the wisdom of the Chicago convention and of the emptiness of the gloomy prognostications of the anti-Cleveland crowd that New York should be the first point which the republicans are inclined to concede to the democrats. The best posted republicans and democrats declare now that Mr. Cleveland is the strongest man in New York that could have been selected. Mr. Harrison and his friends are in despair over the prospects in that state.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Harrison is the nominee of the plutocrats and protectionists, re-enforced by a band of subsidized placemen. Cleveland is the nominee of the democratic people of their country, chosen in the local conventions, in their primary gatherings, in their state assemblies and ratified by the great council at Chicago. Harrison represents the use of the power of government to enrich classes and to provide offices for his henchmen. Cleveland represents the power of government used in the interest of all the people, and the doctrine that public office is a public trust.—St. Louis Republic.

What can the spellbinding orators on the stump reply when, in the midst of a brilliant period on American wages built up and maintained by high imposts, some irreverent auditor asks: "What about Mr. Carnegie and the iron and steel workers?" Really, really, it will be very embarrassing. Mr. Carnegie will doubtless contribute a large sum, as usual, "for the legitimate expenses" of the campaign for maintaining American wages. But should he not square his own practice with the theory whose beauty he never tires of proclaiming?—Indianapolis News.

Regarding the tariff the prohibitionists have a platform of their own. They hold that "tariff should be levied only as a defense against foreign governments which levy tariff upon or bar out our products from their markets, revenue being incidental." Whatever more the government needs "should be raised by levying the burden on what the people possess instead of upon what we consume." The tariff, according to this, should be used only to hurt ourselves by barring out such foreign products as we want as a punishment to foreigners who hurt themselves by barring out such of our products as they want. This is tariff on the howling dervish plan.—Chicago Herald.

It is a scandal of the day, although little attention is paid to it, that the chief executive of America places at the head of the state department the paid attorney of several foreign governments. Since the executive is not to be trusted in a matter of this kind congress ought as to the secretary of state pass such a law as has been upon the statute books for more than a century regarding the appointment of a secretary of the treasury. There must not be in the case of the latter a suggestion of personal interest and so an importer is ineligible for place as secretary of the treasury. No paid attorney of a foreign government ought to be permitted to assume conduct of the state department of the republic.—Chicago Times.

DROPPED INTO THE BASKET

Heads of Several City Gas Plant Officials.

The Gas Trustees Start in to Cut Down Expenses with a Vengeance—O'Herron and Brown Step Down.

As predicted in the Bee Saturday, the gas trustees are cutting down expenses, and heads dropped under the official guillotine by the wholesale.

Superintendent O'Herron, the only official who thoroughly understands the plant and its operation, was asked to step down and out, and to the surprise of everyone, and to none more than himself, George B. Brown, the secretary of the board, was summarily discharged.

The following pointed document, signed by Messrs. Greene and Volt—a majority of the committee on city plant—gives the situation in a nutshell:

To the Board of Natural Gas Trustees:

The committee on plant beg leave to report as follows:

That owing to the decision of the court, this board has been unable to perfect and increase the efficiency of the natural gas plant as it should be, and as the best interests of the people demand, and

Whereas, Owing to the said decisions the income has been greatly impaired and the practical work of the plant seriously hampered; therefore be it

Resolved, first, that the services of the superintendent be dispensed with on and after July 8, 1892.

Second, that the office of secretary and auditor be discontinued.

Third, that the services of the following named employes be dispensed with, viz: Charles Powell (field man), W. H. Muhlmayer (field man), C. A. Pero (clerk).

Fourth, that the wages of S. C. Rogers, store-keeper, shall be $55 per month on and after date.

Fifth, that the wages of Robert Dawson, inspector, shall be $2.25 per day on and after date; and be it further

Resolved, That the manager shall, in addition to his present duties, attend to the duties of the retiring officers.

Mr. Backus was opposed to the manner of procedure, but the program as mapped out went through. Mr. Backus was appointed a committee of one to investigate the department with a view of retrenching further.

YOUNG AMERICA'S FOURTH.

We put him to bed in his little night-gown,
The worst-battered youngster there was in the town,
Yet he yelled, as he opened his only well eye,
"Rah, 'rah, for the jolly old Fourth of July!"

Two thumbs and eight fingers with cloths were tied up,
On his head was a bump like an upside-down cup,
And he smiled as he best could with nose all awry,
"I've had just the bossest Fourth of July!"

We were glad, for he had been up with the sun,
Right into the midst of the powder and fun,
Where the boom of the cannon sent its smoke to the sky,
Young America like, was his Fourth of July.

I said, we were glad all the pieces were there,
So we plastered and bound them with tenderest care,
But out of the wreck came the words with a sigh,
"If to-morrow was only the Fourth of July!"

He will grow all together again, never fear,
And be ready to celebrate Freedom next year,
But tho' it is selfish, we're thankful there lies
A crackerless twelvemonth 'twixt Fourth of Julys.

We kissed him good night on his powder-specked face,
We laid his bruised hands softly down in their place,
And he murmured, as sleep closed his one open eye,
"I wish every day was the Fourth of July."

ONE WORD SHE WILL NOT SPEAK.

She had studied all the elogies that are taught in modern colleges;
She can talk in French, or Spanish, German, Hebrew, Sanskrit, Greek;
She can quote the Italian grammar and speak Russian and not stammer;
She knows the ancient poets and can quote 'em by the week.

The truth is, as a linguist she is certainly distinguished;
Yet she lacks in Anglo-Saxon, though that fact you'd never guess;
I've been trying for a year, sir, trying hard to train her ear, sir,
And to teach her lips to utter just one simple little "yes."

ECHOES OF THE STREET.

Why so pale, poor crossing sweeper,
Why so pale and sad?
Never mortal looked much cheaper;
Has your trade been bad?

Ours, sir, is an old profession,
Started when the flood
Left, in its great retrogression,
Continents of mud.
Our forefathers swept the crossing
For old Israel's band,
When the Red Sea piled its tossing
Waves on either hand.
Centuries have dawned and faded,
Arts have sunk in gloom;
We have still survived and traded,
Brothers of the broom.
Automatic rakes and brushes,
Rotatory switch,
Cannot cleanse from slops and slushes
Equal to our pitch.
Now, alas! our trade is shattered;
Gone, like morning dew,
All the mud that once bespattered,
All the dust that flew;
Yes, sir, all the dirt that made is
Out of droughts or rains,
Now is swept up by the ladies
With their blooming trains.

Long heads are usually associated with the possession of great intellectual strength and mental capacity. A German scientist, however, who made examination of the cranial capacity of 5,000 soldiers at Baden, is of the opinion that the size of the skull depends almost invariably on the proportions of the body. Tall men he found to always have long skulls, or skulls of medium length, whereas the short, fat men, as a rule, had round, flat heads.

The Dismal Swamp in Virginia, one of the largest of the swampy tracts in America, is also one of the most promising areas for reclamation. LOVE AND NIHILISM.

George Thornton was a rich young Englishman of noble birth. A year ago he went to live at the Russian capital, where he fell in love with Olga Ozoteroff. She was the only child of a famous Russian general. Her mother was dead. One evening she bade him accompany her secretly to an unknown part of the city. For half an hour they drove through various streets. When the carriage stopped she led him into a large, vaulted hall among a hundred men and women. Strange banners and symbols were displayed along the walls. When he turned to her he saw the light of triumph and exultation in her eye, and thus he learned the truth. She was a nihilist.

These were all nihilists. This was their council hall. Would he be initiated and enrolled? At once! And he pressed forward to take the oaths with headlong zeal. Serious thoughts came on the morrow. He would get out of it all. They would soon, must soon, be married. Then he would take her home to England, and all this would be a dream of the past.

A short time after this, to Thornton's horror, it was announced that an enemy was to be "removed" and the executioner was to be selected by lot. Forthwith all members of the circle, two by two, renewed their oaths and added another to obey unhesitatingly the commands of the committee on action, whatever they might be.

In this way George Thornton and Olga Ozoteroff took their oaths together. And the president of the circle grasped their hands with unwonted fervor. He had been a suitor of hers, this Loris Stransky, and there were those who said he hated the man who succeeded where he had failed. Stransky, as president, drew the fatal slip of paper from the urn, and without a tremor announced the name, George Thornton. All thronged around the Englishman to congratulate him. Then, in obedience to a sign from Stransky, Olga placed in her lover's hand a pistol, a dagger and a bomb.

Finally the committee led Thornton apart to acquaint him secretly with the name of his victim. He nearly fainted when he read on the card handed to him by Stransky the name of General Ozoteroff, the father of his fiancee. He turned away from Stransky and the committee with a smile and escorted Olga home in gayest of moods. After a night of reflection George determined that they must marry at once and leave for England. When he told her his desire she looked on him with amazement, then with joy.

"Yes, yes!" she exclaimed. "It will be best so. You will have done your work for liberty and then"—

"My work?" he echoed.

"Yes, your work," she whispered.

"Olga! My God! But I cannot."

Then he stopped. He had caught her eye.

"Are you afraid? Then hear me, sir! I swear that if you fail to fulfill your oath I will never so much as look upon you again."

Ten times within the week he called on her, but she would not see him. The week was gone and the deed not done. For the first time Thornton went to the circle alone. She was already there. As he entered the hall not one greeted him with word or look or gesture.

Stransky took his place as president and called the circle to order.

"Friends," he said, "one week ago a solemn lot fell upon one of our number to do a great work for the cause of humanity. He swore to accomplish it within the week. And now the week is past. His work has not been performed."

Stransky continued. "Another will do the work, but what shall be the lot of this one who has proven false to his oath?"

From every member of the circle came the fierce sentence, "Death!"

"Then," said Stransky, "let the executioner be chosen." The names of all the members of the circle were placed in the urn, and Stransky drew one forth, as if by lot.

"This is indeed most strikingly just!" he said, as he looked at the card.

"Olga Ozoteroff, to you the grateful task is given to rid the world of a foe to liberty." At the word all drew their knives. Even Olga drew hers, though moving as one in a dream, and stabbed her lover to the heart.

"One word!" gasped Thornton, "and then—I die! I broke my oath, but not through cowardice. Olga Ozoteroff, it was for the love of thee; for the man I was to slay was—thy father!"

And she stood still, transfixed with double horror. But then one of the committee on action spoke aloud:

"What does this mean? We did not doom Ozoteroff. And one cried: "Long Stransky! It is thou who hast played false!"

Then the dying man staggered three paces forward to where an ancient battle ax was hanging upon the wall; and with the last ebbing effort of his life he tore it down, and with one mighty stroke he shore the traiter Stransky from collar bone to hip. And as they both fell dead the fairest woman in all Russia fell down between them, and her lifeless head lay on her lover's lifeless heart.

Some Hints for Ocean Voyagers About to Visit Europe.

You cannot escape the custom house going abroad any more than you can coming home, says a writer in the New York Advertiser. Into whatever new country you enter, you cannot cross the line until you and your baggage are marshalled out and handbags and trunks opened. A white chalk mark or a little paper stamp signifies you have nothing dutiable. If, however, hidden away in some corner a suspicious looking package is seen, it is pounced upon, and you are fortunate if you have nothing to pay on it.

One young woman not long ago had several boxes of candy given her, and, not realizing the unlawfulness of the act, decided to carry it into Germany with her. Alas! at Bremen it was confiscated by the custom house officers. The Germans are sometimes curious, as well as cautious.

Some American women were kept waiting over one hour at a custom house in Germany while three officers went through the trunk of a French woman. She had been to a funeral and had been willed various family possessions. The officers were greatly interested, asked any number of questions relating to the family of the deceased, and were particularly curious about the old photographs. The women waiting lost their patience, but that made no difference to the officers, who finished their arduous (?) duty.

An American woman spent last summer in the Engadine. She found a dressmaker living for the season at St. Moritz who was all desirable even to her American ideas of good taste. She ordered a handsome cloth gown, understanding, of course, there might be a small duty, and having it forwarded to her after she left. What was her chagrin at being obliged to pay the Italian officers a heavy duty for the gold braid with which her dress was trimmed. One can never tell. Some people travel all over Europe, crossing boundary after boundary, and never pay anything.

A good many people fee well and think in this way they escape the infliction. It depends largely upon the honesty of the custom house officer and the honest face of the traveler. But there is the bother of getting out the keys, unstrapping, etc., and seeing the trays of trunks lifted. Sometimes the officers help very much in opening the trunks; at other times they leave you to work away alone and do your own strapping. Fees are quite customary and oil the wheels greatly. This is especially true on the continent. The leniency, however, to travelers abroad is very great compared to what they undergo when they return to the home of the free! Here eternal vigilance is the general rule practiced.

You will probably have no occasion whatever to use a passport unless in time of war.

Even though you may be master of no language, it is most advisable to learn at least a few phrases of German and French, or, indeed, if you extend your travels to Italy, Spain or other countries, to get some idea of the language of the country you visit. On the continent English is seldom spoken at the stations, and you should learn enough to be able to buy your tickets, see to your baggage, and to learn your destination.

You must also remember that the names of towns are often pronounced in a different manner from what you were taught at school in this country. Then you did not know that the quaint old town of Brunswick, in Germany is known only as Braunschweig, and that is the word you give the ticket agent.

So Vienna is Wien, Florence is Firenze; Antwerp, Antwerpen, and in the French Anvers; Munich, Munchen, while Aix-la-Chapelle is spelled Aachen in German, and so on. If you do not know the language of the country you enter you will feel quite bewildered. It will strike you that the foreigners talk very fast and very loud, and seem much excited, and you just wish you could understand what they are saying to you.

One can generally tell the usual American traveler. If on the continent a man, he spends money lavishly, hardly stopping to count it. He gives a franc where 50 centimes would be ample, and thus he paves the way for tourists who have a limited income.

The English people often speak very plainly on this habit, and say they do not like to travel in the footsteps of their American cousins.

A GHOSTLY ACHE.

A Bespectacled Beaneater Imagines She's Run Down by a Dray.

A day or two before Christmas a lady was coming out of Park square, across Boylston street to the Common, Boston. The crossings were muddy and very slippery. She had been dodging wagons and picking her way across the muddy streets. When she was coming down the Boylston street incline a double team attached to a heavy express wagon, with a projecting pole in front, hove in sight. She slipped on the wet crossing, and the little accident so delayed her movement that the team was upon her almost before she knew it. The speed of the horses was so great that the driver could not have checked them nor diverted them in time to save her. She made a desperate struggle to get away and slipped again, and at this instant the pole of the rushing wagon grazed so closely to her cheek that she felt its rushing movement. It was here that the psychological phenomenon referred to occurred. The lady distinctly heard and felt the crunching of her own bones under the wheels of the wagon; she was, in her own consciousness, completely under the wheels of the vehicle, where she was being fatally run over. At the same instant this thought flashed through her mind: "There is no means of identifying me except a railroad commutation in my bag, which has my husband's address written on the over. How dreadful for him to hear of this in this way!" Then there came to her senses a sort of panoramic picture of her husband and children at home, with no way to find the Christmas presents, which she had hidden away in various places throughout the house. Her imagination recalled every separate spot, with all the details of its surroundings, in which these presents were located—in the attic, some in closets, some in bureaus, etc.

By this time the lady had reached the curbstone and had not been run over at all! The whole affair had taken place within three feet of the curb, and had, of course, occupied only the merest instant of time. The impression of the breaking of bones, the wheels going over her and all the rest, had been pure imagination, and had come at the very instant when the pole of the wagon brushed so closely to her face. Nevertheless, she carried away an ache in every bone and could not for some time disabuse her mind of the sensation of having been actually run over.—Boston Transcript.

HARDWARE IN THE STOMACH.

The death of the "human ostrich," after the removal from the stomach of enough hardware to fill a small show-case, has led to much debating as to the power of human beings to exist with hard metallic substances in their system, writes a correspondent. Any druggist will tell you he has been consulted frequently by the frantic parents of small boys who have swallowed marbles and even more dangerous articles, and that in not one instance out of a score does any inconvenience result after the fright has subsided. When the article swallowed is not very large it is usual for physicians to prescribe an emetic, but when it is large and heavy it is better to eat freely of something that is indigestible, such as hot bread in large quantities, or better still, a large lump of uncooked bread or pastry. This protects the delicate lining of the stomach from injury and the singular meal is speedily forgotten. Among lower animals nails and similar hard substances are frequently swallowed with food and the fact never discovered until the animal is slaughtered and cut up in ordinary course.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Lady Henry Somerset, who was recently in this country, has a sister who is married to the Duke of Bedford, who is said to habitually dine in state at midnight, although an early riser.

Miss Elizabeth More of Edgeworth, Pa., has recently built with her own hands a neat little cottage, laying the foundation, doing all the carpenter work and even plastering the rooms. During some of the work she found it necessary to don male attire, and she was aided in the hardest part of the work by a young girl friend. Miss More is a pretty girl, and is very proud of having once been a protege of Jane Gray Swisshelm, from whom she probably learned some of her energy.

There are famous Helens in our day. The Princess Helene Sagonsko, who has just died in Poland, unmarried, once refused the hand of Napoleon III in marriage. This beautiful woman, from what little we know of her, seems to have been possessed also of good common sense.

The first woman dentist in the world, Mme. Hirschfeldt, who afterward became dentist to the family of the late Emperor William, was graduated from Pennsylvania college, and to-day that institution and the Ohio and Ann Arbor Dental colleges are the only ones that admit women to study dentistry.

Baroness Burdett-Coutts does not mean to let the burden of her 80 years prevent her visiting the world's fair, unless something unforseen should occur between now and then to alter her plans. She is to come to the exposition at the head of the Philanthropic Section.

The Royal Red Cross is one of the most valued possessions of Mrs. John H. R. Bond, of Chicago, who received it from the queen a few years ago in commemoration of her services as a nurse during the campaign in Egypt and Zululand.

A LADY ADVISES LADIES

A Few Secrets from Her Own Experience Which Can Be Profitably Adopted by Others.

I know a charming lady who knows more beautiful and attractive women than any other lady in this city. In conversation recently, she said: "I often feel very sorry when I see so many beautiful women so delicate, and suffering so much, and I have often asked myself what the reason is? I think ladies do not exercise the proper care. They do not eat nourishing food, they are careless of their feet, their necks, their chests. In this way they open the door for diseases and those thousands of troubles which so often afflict womankind, but worse than all they allow their life and strength to run down to a low ebb. How many women we see constantly in this condition. They need help, they need something to depend upon, something that will assist them, some friend in need. I know this, largely, from my own experience for I was once in the same condition myself. I thought the matter over carefully, and decided what I would do. I knew I needed a gentle, constant stimulant, something that would assist my vital forces, keep my blood throbbing and act as a tonic. I decided to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and its effect has been simply wonderful. I do not know what pains, sickness or weakness are and I am satisfied ladies generally could be in the same happy condition by a proper use of the same means."

This lady's remarks are entitled to the greatest consideration, for they are an indication of what hundreds of ladies have found to be a necessity. It should be borne in mind, however, that it is only pure whiskey which should ever be used, and that Duffy's Pure Malt is the only one which receives the endorsement of scientists and the recommendations of physicians. Do not allow any druggist or grocer to induce you to take any other.

It is reported in Western league circles that Ft. Wayne's club is again in trouble, the Cleveland Robinsons having withdrawn their backing. The people in Ft. Wayne did not turn out in sufficient numbers to warrant the financial support of the street railroad magnates and they dropped out. Whether the Western league will carry the Ft. Wayne team, transfer it to another city, or drop the team, will be decided in a few days. If Ft. Wayne is dropped it is very probable that the number of clubs in the league would be cut down to six.

Sixty-six thousand six hundred and thirty-seven people attended the League games in six cities yesterday and 10,550 attended the Western games. On Sunday Minneapolis played to 700 people in St. Paul.

Cincinnati, July 5.—Pitcher Mullane has been released by the Cincinnatis.

DELPHOS FIRE.

Large Livery Barn Badly Damaged—General Notes.

Delphos, O., July 5.—(Special)—Another fire visited this city Saturday night. Shortly after 12 o'clock the alarm was sent in from Mart Harter's livery barn on the same street and immediately north of the three buildings which burned Saturday morning.

The fire department were soon doing good work and with the aid of the strong north wind saved the buildings on the north from any damage. The stock, buggies, etc., were all saved and the roof of the barn was all that was burned.

The work on Andy Fleck's new brick block is rapidly progressing.

Al Isenberg, of Toledo, and a popular Clover Leaf engineer Sundayed with friends in this city.

Henry Sullivan, of Sidney, Ohio, spent Sunday with relatives in this place.

The ball games were well attended Sunday and yesterday, but some very poor playing was done. The Sunday game resulted 12 to 2 in favor of the Colts, of Toledo.

AYER'S Hair Vigor

Restores faded, thin, and gray hair to its original color, texture, and abundance; prevents it from falling out, checks tendency to baldness, and promotes a new and vigorous growth. A clean, safe, elegant, and economical hair-dressing,

Everywhere Popular

"Nine months after having the typhoid fever, my head was perfectly bald. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and before I had used half a bottle, the hair began to grow. Two more bottles brought out as good a head of hair as ever I had. On my recommendation, my brother William Craig made use of Ayer's Hair Vigor with the same good results."—Stephen Craig, 832 Charlotte st., Philadelphia, Pa.

After Bathing

the first time with Pearline, you feel as if you never had been clean before. Possibly you haven't. Only baths like the Turkish or the Russian can make you as clean as Pearline does. There's the same feeling of lightness and luxury after it, too.

Bathing with Pearline costs almost nothing. It's like everything else—you would long for it, if it were expensive, but you're apt to overlook it when it's cheap. Directions on every package.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 334 JAMES PYLE, New York.

No Money Required of Responsible Parties to Commence Treatment

DOCTORS FRANCE AND OTTMAN,

Formerly of New York, now the Celebrated Examining Physicians of THE FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo

Dr. France, Wednesday, July 6.

Dr. Ottman, Saturday, July 16.

Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the Burnett House from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

The doctors describe the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess. Their diagnostic powers have created wonders throughout the country.

The France Medical and Surgical Institute of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the State incorporated with a Capital of $300,000.00.

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 50 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases, and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our [illegible] ing ladies, old, young, married, single, [illegible] or. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies now to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

IN TRADING CIRCLES.

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

What Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat since Friday at Minneapolis and Duluth are 786,194 and at five other western points 314,555 bushels.

The export clearances since Friday at five Atlantic ports are wheat, 520,967 bushels, and flour to an aggregate of 775,000 bushels. Exports of corn 120,697 bushels and of oats 5,5134 bushels.

English markets are dull and without demand.

The ocean stock of flour and wheat decreased in the week 2,072,000, but the imports for the same week were 1,500,000 bushels in excess of requirements. The ocean stock of flour and wheat is now 11,504,000 bushels less than at corresponding date in 1891, but the movement from Southern seaboard points last year was early and large.

Shipments last week were: 1,360,000 bushels and the free movement does not, by any means, indicate the large crop deficiency lately stated.

The weather yesterday and to-day has been exceptionally fine for the harvesters.

Reports from Nebraska corn crop are all that can be wished for. Kansas is also improving and we expect soon to hear that Kansas will produce about half the entire United States crop.

What the Bears Are Saying.

The bears are relying upon a generally good winter wheat with good weather, upon an increased movement, while our stocks of old wheat, visible and invisible, are large for the season. It is too early to judge of the foreign situation The bears point to expected average crops in France, Italy, Spain and Germany.

Some bullish items are that in England the crop is expected to be 8,000,000 bu. short of an acreage. Austro-Hungary is expected to be under an average, especially in rye. India is now claimed to have produced sixty to seventy millions less than last year. From Russia the accounts are conflicting, with the chances greatly on the side of deficiency, considering the loss of animals, and the poverty of masses of the people. But Russia will be likely to supply the loss in India.

Our Winter Wheat Crop.

The reports from Kansas are highly encouraging. From Missouri is expected better than anticipated results. From southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois the reports are growing better daily, while north of Columbus, O., Indianapolis, Ind., and Springfield, Ill., the crop will be deficient in quantity and quality. Michigan also promises a good crop. What is wanted now is dry weather over all this belt to secure the wheat in good condition.

Chicago dealers report a firm corn market and imparting some little firmness to wheat.

The visible supply of wheat decreased last week 209,000 bu. Corn increased 1,626,000 bu., and oats 840,000 bu.

The changes in the wheat market today have been very slight and inconsequential. The markets have been dull everywhere.

The corn markets have been stronger, mostly on orders for produce from the interior.

Wheat in New York closed 1-8c up and in Chicago 1-4c. Corn in New York 7-8c to 1c better, and in Chicago about 1 1-2c up. Oats in New York 3-4c and in Chicago 7-8c up.

OPENING SESSION

Of Master House Painters and Decorators'

Association of Ohio, in the Builders' Exchange Rooms This Morning—Good Attendance and Encouraging Reports.

The convention of the Master House Painters and Decorators' Association of Ohio opened in the rooms of the Builders' exchange this morning, and the session, though short, was very interesting.

The meeting was opened by devotional exercises, led by Dr. W. W. Williams, after which Mr. William Downie of Cleveland, vice-president of the national association, addressed the convention. Mr. Downie spoke of the phenomenal growth of the association in Ohio, which was organized January 14, 1892, and numbers one hundred members from ten different cities in the state. The obstacles to be overcome are many, but the association is to be congratulated on the good already accomplished, and encouraged to continue their efforts. The report of the secretary-treasurer shows the membership to be increasing rapidly and the financial condition first-class, the books showing a balance in hand of $260.

Mr. Max Moore, of Columbus, read a very able paper on Liquid color, and was tendered the thanks of the convention for the valuable information imparted.

The association is officered as follows: President, Chas. Kyle, Cleveland; vice-president, John I. Turner, Toledo; secretary-treasurer, Joseph P. Kealy, Cincinnati; executive board, Chas. Kyle, John I. Turner, Joseph P. Kealy; Lewis Fink, Columbus, O.; Allan G. Meakin, Cincinnati; L. N. Weber, Cleveland; Geo. W. Hall, Logan, O.; F. J. Cook, Mansfield, Ohio.

The members present are: A. H. King & Bros., Toledo; E. H. Breed & Co., Toledo; R. P. Matheis, Toledo; M. Bergman, Toledo; Wales & Thorspeck, Toledo; C. H. Barber, Bellevue, O.; J. J. De Vaux, Toledo; M. P. Homer, F. J. Cook, Middlefield, O.; Botefuhr & Manchester, Toledo; P. C. Eichenberg, Toledo; S. W. Jay, Kealy Bros., Cincinnati; Max Mahr, Columbus, O.; Wm. E. Pollock, Columbus; John Rome's, Toledo; E. A. Stevens & Son, Cleveland; John Theobold, Cincinnati; Samuel F. Woodhouse, Frankford, Philadelphia, Pa.; Chas. E. Wildt & Son, Cincinnati; Chas. Kyle, Cleveland; John I. Turner, Toledo; J. P. Kealy, Cincinnati; Lewis Fink, Columbus; Allan G. Meakin, Cincinnati; W. J. Albrecht, Allen & Parkhurst, Toledo; John Brereton & Co., Toledo; Jos. Corns, London, O.; David Davis, Columbus; Herbert Dale, Wm. Downie, Cleveland; Eichner, Miller & Co., Columbus; John Gray, Cincinnati; U. S. Graphite Co., Saginaw; Peninsular White Lead Co., Detroit, Mich.

There will be a short business session this afternoon, and the guests will then take excursions around the city on the electric cars.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

Sunday Schools That go to Presque Isle all speak in praise of the treatment there.

For purity of tone, perfection of action, finished workmanship, and great durability there is not one that equals the Kranich & Bach piano.

Among those present were: Misses Cora and Eva Jenny, Vallie and Ethel Barbra, Ada and Minnie Swan, Naomi Johnson, Mollie and Thekla Hego, and Masters Charlie Swan, Eddie Finch, Earl Van Carson and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Ovid B. Law, with Mr. and Mrs. Bert St. John, celebrated the Fourth with a party of mutual friends at the St. John homestead on Lower Summit street last evening. It was an "old-fashioned celebration." The lawn was lighted by Chinese lanterns, there were stands where red lemonade, gingerbread and gum were dispensed, there were the drum corps with drum major with the awkward squad, and a fine display of fireworks was sent up from the river bank. The decorations of bunting, flags, lanterns and bouquets were on quite an elaborate scale without and within doors. From a very much beflagged piatform, with a background of lilac trees, George Stevens let fly the American eagle. It was an eloquent outburst of oratory, entirely in keeping with the occasion. A sack race was indulged in—Messrs. Walter Woolley and Waite St. John being the participants. Diamond badges, with the cost price carefully rubbed from the back, were the prizes. St. John was awarded one for his speed in getting there, and Woolley, likewise one, for the grace he exhibited in his comparatively slow transit. A modern innovation was the "cake walk," which created much merriment. Later, cakes, ice cream and pine apple ice were served in the parlors. Mrs. Miller gave a vocal solo, the Italian band, consisting of Messrs. Law, St. John, Caughling and Stevens, played several airs in answer to repeated encores. Miss Mabel Raitz gave a recitation and Mrs. Laura Law responded to a persistent demand for a reading. The favors were guns on carriages with tiny flags. For an impromptu home celebration it was a festive success, quite unique and original in design.

NOTHING BETTER FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Regular meeting of the Builders' exchange this evening.

Dr. Flint continues to draw good business at the People's theater.

Mrs. Sutfin, of Huron county, has been received at the asylum for treatment.

The board of directors of the Builders' exchange will meet to-morrow evening.

The Carpenters' and Builders' association will meet in the rooms of the Builders' exchange, Blade building, this evening.

Thirteen plain drunks were gathered in by the police force yesterday. Ten other cases of minor importance occupied the attention of Judge Sala this morning.

Thieves went through the house of Mr. Landman, 115 Tenth street, yesterday and stole some change and a few pieces of jewelry.

There was only one fire yesterday, fortunately. A spark from a skyrocket ignited the hay in the barn of C. A. McKinley, 1412 Huron street, last night. The flames were soon extinguished.

J. W. Nicholson, of West Toledo, is improving his business property by adding a new store building. Mr. Nicholson's friends dropped in on him last evening and made the evening merry with dancing and fireworks.

The alley between Germania street and Indiana avenue is in a wretchedly filthy and impassable condition, particularly so between Clark and Lenk streets. Some time ago a sewer was run through the alley. It has caved in at many places, and it is not only impassable but actually dangerous. What's the matter with the street commissioner?

Mr. John S. Kountz, of the Produce Exchange building, has just been appointed agent of the Scottish Union and National Insurance company of Edinburgh and London for Toledo and vicinity. The Scottish Union and National is one of the leading fire insurance companies, and has American and foreign assets amounting to over $30,000,000.

Many a sympathetic thought will be extended to Trainmaster C. F. Wilcox's wife in her bereavement. Mrs. Wilcox was formerly a Toledo lady and will be better remembered as Minnie Crennan. She is a sister of Mrs. John Bartelle, who with Mr. Bartelle left immediately for Peru, where Mrs. Wilcox resides. Mr. Wilcox's remains will be brought to Toledo for interment.

TOLEDO TO NEW YORK AND RETURN, $14.75,

Less Than One Fare for Round Trip.

Cheap enough. The Michigan Central, "The Niagara Falls Route," will sell these tickets, July 5 to 7, good to return until July 15, with privilege of extension to August 15. By arrangements made with the New York Central, stop-over privileges will be allowed at Niagara Falls and at Albany, (to run over to Saratoga Springs, where the great educational meeting will be held) and at other points, and the option given of all rail or Hudson River Day Line steamers from Albany to New York.

It pays to travel over a first-class line. Do not forget that the utmost comfort, safety and convenience goes with a ticket over the Michigan Central. Its trains pass directly by and in full view of Niagara Falls, down the lovely Mohawk valley and the incomparable Hudson.

Tickets also sold to Saratoga Springs, July 5 to 13, at one fare for the round trip, with addition of $2.00 for membership fee. National Educational association, good to return until July 19, with privilege of extension to September 15. Stop-overs granted at Niagara Falls, Albany and other points. For fuller information apply to Wm. Gates, Ticket Agent, Boody House, or Union depot; and Wm. J. Seinwerth, S. P. Agent, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Stop-over at Philadelphia, and return limit extended until Sept. 15, on New York excursion tickets via. Pennsylvania Lines. Tickets on sale July 5, 6 and 7.

BOTTLE STEALERS

Are Being Gathered in by the Police.

A Man Arrested With 400 in His Cellar—The Bottling Concerns After the Offenders.

The law in regard to the keeping, selling or destroying bottles with the firm name blown on them is much more exacting, perhaps, than some would imagine. For some time the bottling concerns of Philip Schmidt, Toledo Brewing Co., Hoppe & Strub, Grasser & Brand, Buckeye Co. and others have been missing bottles, not by the dozens or hundreds, but by the thousands.

The detectives have been working on the matter for some time, but whoever was doing the pilfering worked in the dark. On several occasions parties who were suspected were jumped upon, but they had broken the necks from the bottles and kept the stoppers which are as valuable as the bottles themselves. The tell tale bottles were safely hid.

To-day the detectives arrested a Jew by the name of Weiman and found 400 bottles in his cellar on St. Clair street. The various bottlers were at the police station picking out their property.

According to the law any person who will traffic in such bottles or wantonly destroy them can be fined 50 cents a bottle for the first offense and $100 for every bottle on the second offense.

PEARLS IN BLACK RIVER.

An Important Industry Springs Up in an Entirely New Spot.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., July 2.—It has just been divulged that some time last summer an old pearl fisher, prospecting down Black river seven or eight miles from here, while examining the mussel shells that lie in countless thousands in the mud of the river bed, discovered pearls more or less valuable. Heretofore no one suspected that these dingy bivalves contained beautiful gems. Yet here they are more plentiful than in any other river in the state.

Several expert divers, among them Henry Winn and a son of Geo. E. Hill, were let into the secret. At odd times during the summer the young men collected enough pearls to fill a two-ounce bottle. The pearls range in size from the tiny hinge pearl to the pure and lustrous gems found between the mantle and the shell, and only to be found by those who know how to search for them. The largest pearl found in Black river, so far as known, is a half inch long, of kidney shape and surpassing beauty. Many of the small pearls are of a delicate rose color, and translucent. It is stated that eastern dealers in pearls consider the pearls of southern river inferior to those of northern waters, but one pearl bringing its finder, so it is said, over $500.

A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator, daily, relieves and prevents indigestion.

STRUCK WITH A ROCKET.

Fostoria, O., July 5.—A 6-year old son of George Fabron was struck in the left abdomen by a skyrocket that was fired horizontally into a crowd on Main street last evening. The covering was ruptured and the bowels protruded. Drs. Miller and Henry have done everything in their power to alleviate the sufferings of the victims, but it is feared the lad cannot recover. The mother is frantic, having lost five boys in the last few years.

Pimples, blotches, sore and their cause are removed by Simmons Liver Rugulator.

JULY'S INFANTILE DEATH RATE.

Last year the death rate in July, from cholera infantum, was frightful, and this July bids fair to equal it. The best physicians agree in saying that if a baby lives on lactated food it is not liable to this disease, and will be well and strong all through this dangerous season.

There is a certain standard of morality in advertising, just as there is in every other business, and those who aspire to make a lasting success in the commercial world ought to recognize the necessity of keeping clear of even the slightest suspicion of fraud in their announcements.

DID YOU GET A SUIT?

We have sold a host of them, those TEN DOLLAR SUITS, during the past week and everybody who buys one admits that it's the best suit for the money it has ever been their good luck to buy. Rare bargains in Sawyer Cheviots, always staple and considered full value at $15, lots of 'em included in OUR $10 SALE. Fine Suits, these, at least we think so and our experience has not been limited. We offer you any outfit such as any gentleman may wear and feel dressed in and at a price to please those to whom a dollar counts. All next week this sale will continue on the liberal lines now established and the values will be sustained.

THE FINEST SELECTION IN THE CITY!

We have picked out hundreds of suits from our stock the past week that have been selling for $12 to $15 and marked down to $10 so as to keep up a liberal assortment. You never saw goods of such value and merit; they cannot be equalled elsewhere for less than $15, perhaps $18. If you don't believe this statement come in and be convinced, buying is at your option afterwards. We have convinced hundreds (that's a good many) during the process of this sale.

And we can convince hundreds of more. During our 11 years in Toledo we have never had such large sales in the month of June as in the one just passed away.

Roses and Bargains! Flowers and $1 Suits!

Suits of excellent material, made on honor, well-trimmed, artistically cut, perfect fitting, bought for cash, the lowest cash price obtained, and then a neat discount rubbed off of that, and thus the lowest level of cost touched, and the highest summit of value attained at the same time. Much more might be said in rehearsing THIS TALE OF VALUE, but then one single, solitary $10 suit would out-talk, out-preach, out-write, out-class the most brilliant flight of rhetoric.

Do You Want a Suit? Do You Want a Good Suit?
Do You Want a Stylish Suit? Do You Want a Durable Suit?
Do You Want a Rare Value? The Best Value in the City?

ONE OF OUR $10 SUITS WILL FILL THE BILL!

MOCKETT THE CLOTHIER

OUR REGULAR SUMMER.....

Clearing Sale!

.....Commences "Tuesday, July 5th."

We do not pick out old shop worn or unseasonable goods that are a good riddance at any price, but we include the most stylish and seasonable goods on our counters.

Everything must go at a price.

This is not a quarter off or discount sale. All goods are marked down to close out.

We always do just as we say.
